Seelye wins national award

William D. Seelye, executive vice president, Methodist Hospital Foundation, has been selected by the National Association of Hospital Development for its prestigious award, the Si Seymour Award, at their annual meeting in Dallas, Tex. He was awarded this honor for distiguished service for the entire organization of development officers in the United States, last Wednesday.

Seelye came to Methodist Hospital in 1985 to reactivate the Methodist Hospital Foundation as its executive director. Previously, he served as development director at Providence Hospital in Anchorage, Alaska, John Muir Hospital in Walnut Creek and Pacific Presbyterian Medical Center in San Francisco, as well as being alumni director at Pomona College.

He served as National Association of Hospital Development (NAHO) chairman of 1980-1981 and has served as an officer and committee chairman for many years.

The Si Seymour Award is given annually to the one development officer in the United States who has demonstrated distinguished service to the association.

Seelye is a resident of Arcadia and has two children, Elaine and David, who are college students in Southern California. He also serves as treasurer of the Board of the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce.

City Council investigating possible paramedic program

Research by Creath B. Smiley

A letter from Anita Shaffer, R.N., resident of Sierra Madre, prompted the Sierra Madre City Council to request a special meeting with the Fire Department concerning investigation of the community's medical transportation needs. They met last Thursday.

Shaffer's letter expressed concern that "the present Prehospital Care System that exists in Sierra Madre is antiquated and does not meet the needs of Sierra Madre citizens, nor does it meet the current medical standard in the Los Angeles community."

Fire Chief Edward Tracy responded, "While the fire department administration appreciates Ms. Shaffer's concerns it takes strong exception to the comment (above) . . . Quantum improvements have been made in the level of care afforded to the community within the last 18 months. These improvements were made on the basis of an internal audit study performed during the period February to April 1987. In addition, it should be noted that the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department is providing the highest level of care considered to be affordable by the City Council based upon what it feels are the needs of the community and is currently implementing an EMT-1D Program. However, this EMT-ID Program is not intended to take the place of paramedics . . ."

Tracy also said, "Ms. Shaffer fails to mention in her letter the cost of this paramedic service and the method of funding the cost of a full-time Paramedic program . . . The February 1987 report prepared by the fire department provided conservative cost estimates for the City Council's consideration for implementing paramedic service.

San Gabriel has EMT program

"There are numerous inaccuracies in Ms. Shaffer's letter particularly regarding the fact that soon Sierra Madre will be the only community without paramedic service. The city of San Gabriel, through its paid fire department, is currently only providing an EMT level of care. Ms.

Mixer Oct. 19

Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce mixer is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 19 at Gooden School at 192 N. Baldwin.

All foothill residents are urged to attend the mixer which is scheduled from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Cost is $3.50 per person which entitles each to two drinks and hors d'oeuvres.

Three residents win Kauai trips

The three foothill residents who won trips for two to the island of Kauai, Hawaii, in a drawing Saturday evening were Mary DeFazio and Nelle Jane Earll, both of Arcadia, and Beth Constanza who owns Cheyenne Supper Club.

The two Arcadia women won from about 50,000 entries which were deposited at the locations of the 82 businesses in Sierra Madre and Arcadia that participated in the six-week Hawaiian Getaway Promotion sponsored by the Sierra Madre and Arcadia Chambers of Commerce.

All winners will stay at Islander on the Beach located at 484 Kuhio Highway, Kapaa, Kauai, which is owned by Village Resorts in Lafayette, Calif. Airfare and several side trips are also included in the package. The winners have until May 31, 1989 to take their free trips.

Famous Hawaiian Impressionist painter James Hoyle made a personal appearance for the luau Saturday evening at Hinshaw's second story parking lot. He is known as the Van Gogh of Hawaii and does most of his painting in Hanapepe, Kauai where his studio and home are located.

He donated a $600 serigraph, which when framed was worth about $900. Hoyle drew the winning name of Ron Richter of Arcadia from the drawing barrel which was overflowing with tickets.

Catherine Rocco of Pasadena won a trip to Las Vegas and Misty Bakke of Arcadia won the trip to Disneyland. David Hagan of Sierra Madre won the dinner for two at Howard Johnson restaurant.

Patricia Morrison of Azusa won the two-day trip to LaHabra Inn and Ruby Wycoff of Monrovia received tickets for two to Magic Mountain.

Mustafa Hassan of Arcadia was winner of two haircuts and styling by Lois at Scissor's Art. Two tickets to Oak Tree 1988 meet went to Tess Remsey of Temple City.

LeTishiea Merrill of El Monte was winner of

VFW post addition dedication Saturday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 3208, Sierra Madre, are planning an open house this weekend, Saturday, Oct. 15 at the hall addition at 40 E. Montecito that has been dedicated to Louis Van Iersel, long-time Sierra Madrean. Mr. Van Iersel died June 9, 1987 at the age of 93.

While he lived, he was the most highly decorated surviving veteran of WWI who then risked his life for his adopted homeland a second time when he volunteered for the Marine Corps in WWII.

The dedication is open to the public and begins with no-host cocktails at 6 p.m. at the VFW hall at 40 E. Montecito Ave. Dinner will begin at 7 Saturday evening and entertaining of Mickey rooney's Kids is from 8 to 9 p.m.

At 9 p.m. there will be dancing until midnight.

The new hall, just behind the regular VFW post, is the location of the Wednesday evening Bingo games. It is also a centrally located location for all types of parties, from birthday parties to wedding receptions. Anyone needing more information should call the hall at 355-7016.

There is a fish fry every Friday evening from 5:30 to 8 and they serve a hearty breakfast every Sunday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Bizarre case concludes with Search and Rescue effort

By Joan Mounteer

A two-day search covering 15 square miles and aided by bloodhounds and the sheriff's rescue helicopters came to an end when a crew from the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team located the body of a Michigan man who had come to California for a prospecting trip, only to mysteriously end up at the bottom of a canyon near Chantry Flat.

George Knight, 63 years old, reportedly left Michigan on Oct. 1 for a prospecting trip near Doyle, a town in northern California. His plans did not include a trip to Southern California.

Knight did not show up in Doyle, however, and with no obvious explanation, his car, bearing Michigan plates, was left at the Chantry Flat parking lot for two nights. To add to the intrigue, the windows of the vehicle were left open and valuables, including a rifle, were left inside.

A telephone call from the ranger at the Chantry Flat station called the efforts of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team into action at noon on Friday, Oct. 7. That day, the crew had the assistance of the sheriff's helicopter and bloodhounds provided by the Los Angeles Search Dog Bloodhound Assistance organization. The search continued into Saturday and crews from

Sposato to race hot car at Luguna Seca this weekend

By JoAnn Scott

Arcadian Joe Sposato hopes to improve his current fifth place standing when he drives his new Swift Formula Atlantic car at Laguna Seca in Monterey this weekend for the last of 10 regular season events in a professional West Coast series sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America.

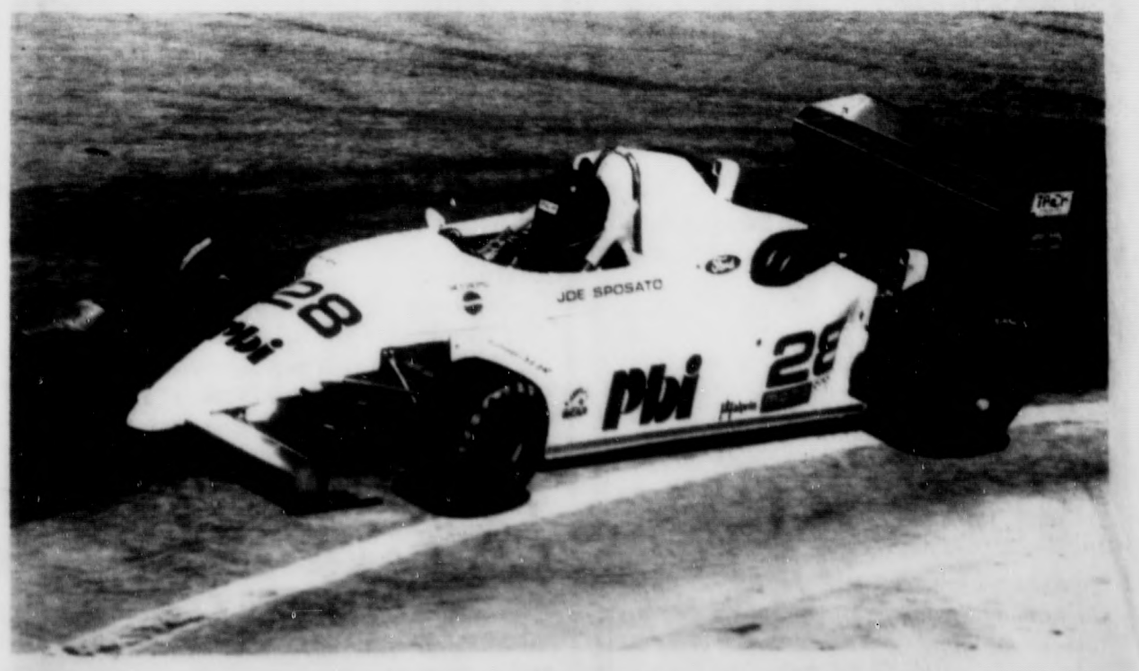

Experiencing his most successful year is six years of serious professional racing, Sposato's best finish was at Riverside in May when he came in second. He has driven an English made Ralt in the seven races in which he has competed so far this year.

With the Ralt now sold to another Arcadian, Brent Lachelt, Sposato has purchased an Anaheim-made Swift which is more technologically advanced and, with greater down force, is faster on turns, according to the new Swift owner.

A native of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., Sposato began his racing career at the age of 16 when his wheels were on go-karts. After he graduated from the University of Colorado with a degree in marketing, his father gave him his first real race car, a Formula Ford.

He attended a Sports Car Club of America driving school, one of the prerequisites to obtaining a racing license, and found himself a classmate of

At first we saw scribbles — and they are unintelligible at best — on a few back doors in the alleys. Soon they appeared on various utility boxes.

Now we are seeing the bold scratches cropping up on some of the main streets here and there.

Perhaps we need to take bolder methods of catching these vandals. Or perhaps we should institute a voluntary painting cadre that would cover the graffiti as soon as it appears.

Whatever we do, let's do it now. The town in parts is beginning to look disgraceful. Not at all what we envision for beautiful Sierra Madre.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Sierra Madre.

We are extremely pleased to report there is a distinct minimum of signs on utility poles and none on trees since a recent letter to the editor, editorial and response by the Sierra Madre Police Police Department.

Sierra Madreans are resorting to placing large signs on the windows of autos with arrows pointing to the direction of the sale.

We are proud of how you have responded toward keeping Sierra Madre the beautiful place and we congratulate you all for following the rules that were formed to assist the town in this role.

Congratulations to Sierra Madre.

Foothills featured

We read with pride the two-section article on the foothills area in the Sept. 26 and Oct. 3 issues of the New Yorker magazine.

More specifically, it relates to the historical and geological background of this area.

Miner Harkness of the Search and Rescue Team is quoted extensively as are other Sierra Madre residents. Harkness' input qualifies him as a historian of the foothill area.

The News will attempt a recap of the two articles in upcoming issues of the paper. In the meantime, buy the two issues and enjoy them for yourselves. September 26 and Oct. 3.

Under the Pepper Tree

by Jan Reed

● We hear the Hector Gallego, co-owner of Salon Santini, has a younger brother who is playing for the Oakland A's. Hector was not at the salon when we called Tuesday to get more information so read the Pepper Tree next week to hear all about it . . .

● Helen Walker is home from the hospital after having undergone treatment for her back problems. She is progressing nicely and says she is walking slowly but walking.

● Wish Barbara Godley Happy Birthday for her 95th birthday. Impossible, you say? Yes, of course. However, Barbara has been scouring her home for a scrapbook for a month.

She finally gave up last week, telling a friend that she guessed she'd be 95 years old before she found the book.

Well, guess what? Two days later she came across it, in a place where she had looked several times. She was looking for a brown cover and it was white. So, happy birthday, Barbara.

● You'll note a piece on Joe Sposato, a local race car driver, in this week's News. He has a personalized license plate that's pretty clever and we decided we'd better share it. FYR RACR. It means fire racer, of course, but can be interpreted two different ways, according to Sposato. It could mean he races fires, since his business is in firefighting equipment. Or it could mean that he races hot, referring to his hobby of Atlantic Formula race car driving.

Our Arcadia editor, JoAnn Scott, who interviewed him, tells us his secretary came up with the idea for the plate.

Clever.

● When was the last time you attended a dog show? We had the pleasure this weekend and it was entertaining and enlightening even though it must have been 130 degrees in Brookside Park Sunday morning.

Bob Penny, who is famous as a dog trainer and judge and who lives in Sierra Madre, showed us around and we were thrilled to find that Carroll Brown's dog, Rowdy, had won a prize. Read more about it elsewhere in The News.

● This week's paper looks like pictures plus, and it is. There were so many exciting functions happening in the foothill area over the weekend.

Of course, the Sierra Madre Fire Department held their annual festival on Saturday and it was a great draw for kids and parents alike.

● The first batch of 1988 Christmas seals has been sent to 12 million households across America and nearly 400,000 in Los Angeles County. So you'll be receiving yours soon. It's called "81 Years of Giving."

Police Blotter

Unhappy about no follow-up by City Hall

This letter was sent to members of the City Council with a copy to The News. Ed.

I am writing this to inform you of yet another incident that displays a lack of action and/or incorrect information being given to residents in the area of Forest Lane by city employees.

On or about August 4, 1988, city yard personnel dug up a 3-5 foot wide portion of the east side of Forest Lane, about 70 yards long. This was done to provide water service to new homes and others that are still under construction and still others that are to soon to be started.

On Sept. 17, 1988 a guest of ours was injured after tripping over a chunk of blacktop that was dug up six weeks earlier. While her injuries where minor, facial cuts and a torn blouse, this is an incident that should have never happened, had the roadway been repaired in a timely manner.

On Sept. 19, I went to City Hall and reported this to the City Manager, Mr. McRea and others. McRea assured me that the problem would be taken care of "right away." One week later, Sept. 26, I called Mr. McRea because nothing had been done. The roadway still had large chunks of blacktop and rocks scattered throughout the dirt with ruts in other parts of the roadway. He again assured me that it would be taken care of "right away."

Later during the week I found out that a neighbor had a visitor that had also fallen, fortunately there were no injuries. During the past 9 weeks I have seen neighboring children on bikes fall after sliding in the dirt that is sometimes washed into the middle of the road.

What will it take to correct this problem? If somebody is seriously injured it would seem that it would be a lot of needless liability on the part of the city since the city knew of the problem and failed to correct it. We're still waiting to have the street repaired, of course we are sure that it will be taken care of "right away."

I find this to be so frustrating, the developing has been going on for some 18 months and appears as though it will take another year. So many times when problems come up we are told that it will be taken care of and nothing happens. I would appreciate your comments and hope that you can help resolve some of our problems. After all it seems to me that as a member of the City Council you are the ultimate ones in charge.

Complaints about Sierra Madre housing

We are very unhappy to have to report the negative experience we have had since June with our rental near Memorial Park. When we moved in we had high hopes this was going to be "it" for awhile, since our son (8) needs the stability of a good home.

For 10 days our electricity would not function properly and at one point we went totally without for 24 hours. A plumbing problem in the bathroom has yet to be fixed after two months of pleading with the landlord. Appliances "left" in the house (a refrigerator and stove) are now broken (not our doing) and the landlord will not repair them. In desperation, we called the fire marshal who cited the place for numerous violations.

Through all this we have paid our rent on time every month ($695) despite the above shortcomings.

We attempted to resolve this through Pasadena's Community Dispute Resolution Center. But the landlord, a Sierra Madre realtor, refused to come to the bargaining table.

We may be evicted very soon for complaining. In 20 years as a tenant I have never had to face such problems in a rental. And I have always, before now, worked amicably with landlords.

If you know of a small 1-2 bedroom house in town, please call 355-5379 anytime soon. Thanks.

Fall harvest tour

The Arcadia Travelers plan a Fall Harvest tour through the Apple Orchards on Oct. 20-22. The Thursday night farmers market and street fair in San Louis Obispo plus a winery tour, Morro Bay Museum of Natural History and shopping in Cambria are some of the highlights of the tour. Stops at Solvang, Guadalupe and Santa Ynez are also included. Much of the tour will be on back roads through orchards and farming country with stops to purchase the fresh fruit.

SNF luncheon set

By Phyllis Chapman

Arriving in style for the Sierra Madre Skilled Nursing Auxiliary "Holiday Wonders" luncheon on Saturday, Oct. 22, will be Connie's Boutique to present the fashion show. The annual fund raising event begins at 11:30 a.m. and will be held at the Fellowship Hall of the Sierra Madre United Methodist Church, 695 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.. corner of Michillinda, with ample parking in the rear.

Shop owner Connie Pedranti will commentate the show. Models will be auxiliary members, President Olive Buchan, Sheri Burnett, Celeste McCreary, Marie Sullivan, and from the boutique, Nancy Alfieri, Beverly Harris and Mary Jensen.

Connie's Boutique is a small shop, located at 22 N. Baldwin in Sierra Madre but the size is deceiving. Connie's features a selection of well-designed clothes in a wide range of sizes that are easy to wear, easy to travel and also ideal for the career woman. Many of these clothes, along with the jewelry and accessories she carries, can be found only in a boutique.

The shop has been in Sierra Madre for two years and is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10:30 to 5:30 p.m. Connie grew up here in town and attended Sierra Madre School.

Entertaining before the fashion show and just following luncheon, will be song stylist Patti Jo May who will also play the guitar. She will present a combination of favorite standards and also original selections. Patti Jo is the daughter-in-law of David and Dorothe May, well-known in the community, and wife of David May, Jr. The Mays, Jr. are parents of Tony, age 16 and Casey who is 12. Casey will join his mother in one selection by playing the accordian. Patti Jo has been singing professionally for 10 years.

Jean Goudy is chairman of "Holiday Wonders" and among those serving on the committee are Buchan, McCreary, Althea Butler, Mary Bickel, Phyllis Chapman, Dorothe May, Jill McMahon and Marjorie Peterson. Invitations have been sent to special guests Denise Sutton, SNF administrator; Lynn King, SNF activities director; Elaine Rudolph, chairman of the SNF Board of Directors, and Fred Meyer, president of Methodist Hospital with which SNF is affiliated.

Tickets for the luncheon are $10 and may be obtained from any auxiliary member or by calling 355-4431 or 355-6589. To add to the fun of the day numerous door prizes will be awarded.

Proceeds from "Holiday Wonders" are earmarked for the further upgrading of the decor in the residents' rooms.

Doris Digel rites Wednesday

Doris Lucinda Digel

Funeral services for Doris Lucinda Digel were scheduled Wednesday, Oct. 12, at Douglass & Zook Mortuary in Monrovia.

Mrs. Digel died Oct. 9 at Rockhaven Sanitarium, Verdugo City, of complications following a heart attack. She had been a resident of Sierra Madre for the past 10 years. Interment will be in Massillon, Ohio.

Rev. Rich LaShure and Rev. Sylvia Hines from Methodist Church were to officiate at the services.

Mrs. Digel was born Doris Lucinda Smart, Mar. 9, 1900. Her family had pioneered in the Northwest Territory, settling in and around Morocco, Ind.

She lived most of her adult life in Lakewood, Ohio, where she was well-known for her work in the PTA, Eastern Star, her church and civic affairs. She was preceded in death by her husband of 43 years, Otto A. Digel, of Lakewood.

Her family remembers her as loving to dance and play bridge in Ohio.

Here in Sierra Madre, she was a member of the United Methodist Church, the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, the Sierra Madre Skilled Nursing Facility Auxiliary and Eastern Star.

Surviving are her two daughters, Mary Buchan and Dorrie Pallone, her brother, Byron L. Smart of South Bend, Ind., five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Developer takes exception to Ordinance 1047, 1048

Following the motion by Councilman George Maurer to accept for first reading by title only Ordinance No. 1048, concerning mandatory residential fire sprinklers in certain instances, Richard Goodman, who describes himself as a "developer and remodeling contractor," declared that it would cost him about $3000 to install sprinklers in his home recently purchased on Lima.

He also disapproved of the passage by second reading and adoption of Ordinance No. 1047, concerning rear and side yard requirements.

Goodman said, "Ordinance 1047 would be detrimental to homeowners, would hurt homeowners rather than developers, It would be impossible to keep the houses from looking like wedding cakes. It would create many buildings that look pyramid-shaped."

He referred to the second ordinance that increased the rear yard setback to 15 feet from 10 feet, doubles the side yard requirement for second story structures. New two-story structures would require twice the setback of the second floor offset and would step back to provide greater separation from the property line.

The ordinance becomes effective for any projects not currently in plan check.

About the proposed fire sprinkler ordinance, Goodman said, "I think it's a ridiculous cost. Benefits? I'd have to live in my house 30 to 40 years before recouping that cost. I think it's someone's pet project for the fire department."

Mayor Clem Bartolai suggested Goodman talk with Fire Marshal Bill Kramer and he also told the prospective Sierra Madrean, "The ordinance was covered by the Planning Commission before it got to us."

Councilwoman Lisa Fowler made the motion for Ordinance 1047. Both 1047 and 1048 passed unanimously before Goodman appeared at the meeting.

Sierra Madre City Councilmembers also adopted the CRA resolution 180 and City Council Resolution 88-45, creating a Sierra Madre Joint Powers Agreement in the amount of 7 million and appointing the council and the CRA boardmembers as the governing body. Bonds will be priced by Nov. 1.

Sierra Madre and Arcadia Councilmembers will meet to discuss the Orange Grove Improvement proposal. Estimated cost to Sierra Madre would be $252,500 for the area from Baldwin to the eastern corporate limits, and $287,800 for the area from Michillinda Ave. to Baldwin. Saving existing curbs in Phase I reduces the cost of $225,400 and saves two trees in Sierra Madre, City Administrator Jim McRea advised the council.

Residents who live near the proposed project will also be urged to speak at the public meeting following discussions by the two city entities. The street divides the two towns and must be repaired by those same towns.

City Councilmembers approved the following motions Tuesday evening concerning the Grandview Avenue improvement project: they authorized the mayor to execute the cooperative agreement and assign necessary Federal Aid Urban (F.A.U.) funds to the county, and adopted the required findings and Resolution 88-43. They also instructed the director of public works to review, prepare and propose the formation of an assessment district for sidewalks on Grandview since many residents on that street had requested fixing the sidewalks and installing them in some locations where they do not now exist, at the same time Grandview is reconstructed.

Bidding period is scheduled for late December or early January, McRea stated, with work beginning about April.

Councilman Andrew Roy Buchan made the motion to authorize signatures on the final Tentative Tract Map for the Jameson Estate Subdivision.

Al Guy, Gene Torncello, Bill Milleavy and Chuck Andrews complained about fencing that had been constructed in the area of Sycamore Place and Laurel Avenue, near the ballfields and the settling basins. Those neighbors wanted to know what the city had in mind concerning the property that had recently been fenced off, allowing part of it incomplete so that pathways were already being formed.

Torncello said, "We have watched people park on Grandview, go through the fences, go into the settling basin area."

Andrews said, "My consideration is that even our access is restricted. On a weekly basis I clean up beer cans and trash left by people who cut through the settling basins . . . Materials have been wasted at public expense."

The mayor suggested that the Parks and Recreation Commission be contacted since the work done there would be at their request.

The council quickly turned down Francois Theroux' request to rename Fairview Ave. to Fairview Estates after long-time residents, the Joe Delgattos who lived in the area before moving to a local condo. "I faill to see how that going to honor a man by calling that portion 'Estates.' Why not call it after the Delgattos?" Maurer asked.

Councilwoman Fowler said she was disappointed that there had been a lot split on the one end of the street and that there was now a vacant lot with a cab, camper and many weeds at the other end. She said, "Why call their area 'estates' when the rest of us are just called houses?"

The motion was unanimous against the suggestion.

Maranatha students

Maranatha High School has been notified by National Merit Scholarship Corporation that Anthony C. Bishop, Winston Chamberlain and Alan M. Johnson have been designated Commended Students in the 1989 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The principal, Dr. James W. Braley, announced recently that these seniors placed in the top 50,000 of more than one million participants in the 34th annual Merit Program and will receive a Letter of Commendation in recognition of outstanding academic promise.

The over one million participants in the current Merit Program entered the competition by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in October 1987 as high school juniors. Although their qualifying test scores are very high, the 35,000 young people throughout the nation who are Commended Students scored slightly below the level required for Semifinalist standing in their respective states.

Small horse

The now-extinct ancestor of the horse euhippus had a short neck and stood no higher than a medium-sized dog.

Lynne Siebrandt joins The News

A Hastings Ranch resident is the newest staff member of the Sierra Madre News, replacing Joe Murphy as dispatcher.

Murphy has been with The News for five years and has decided to retire for the second time from a job. He retired from Robert's Market (Howie's Market) several years ago.

Lynne Siebrandt has lived in the Hastings Ranch area for seven years and is also retired after having owned a paint company in Los Angeles for several years. She will be The News representative who delivers ad proofs, picks up paper stock and delivers newspapers to specific customers.

Siebrandt was born in Boise, Idaho but has lived in California most of her life, having moved to Hastings Ranch from Glendale. Her husband is a native of California.

She graduated from Verdugo Schools and became a dental assistant, working in oral surgery for 25 years. She purchased the paint company which she ran for about five years then sold it recently.

Her husband recently sold his manufacturing company in Los Angeles and is filling his retirement time by attending real estate school at Pasadena City College. He is also taking an air ground course, having been a pilot for years. They sold their Piper Aero but play golf and particularly enjoy fishing.

"We never catch a thing but we love the fresh air and relaxation," Siebrandt says.

The Siebrandts have a daughter and two grandchildren.

Welcome her to The News staff.

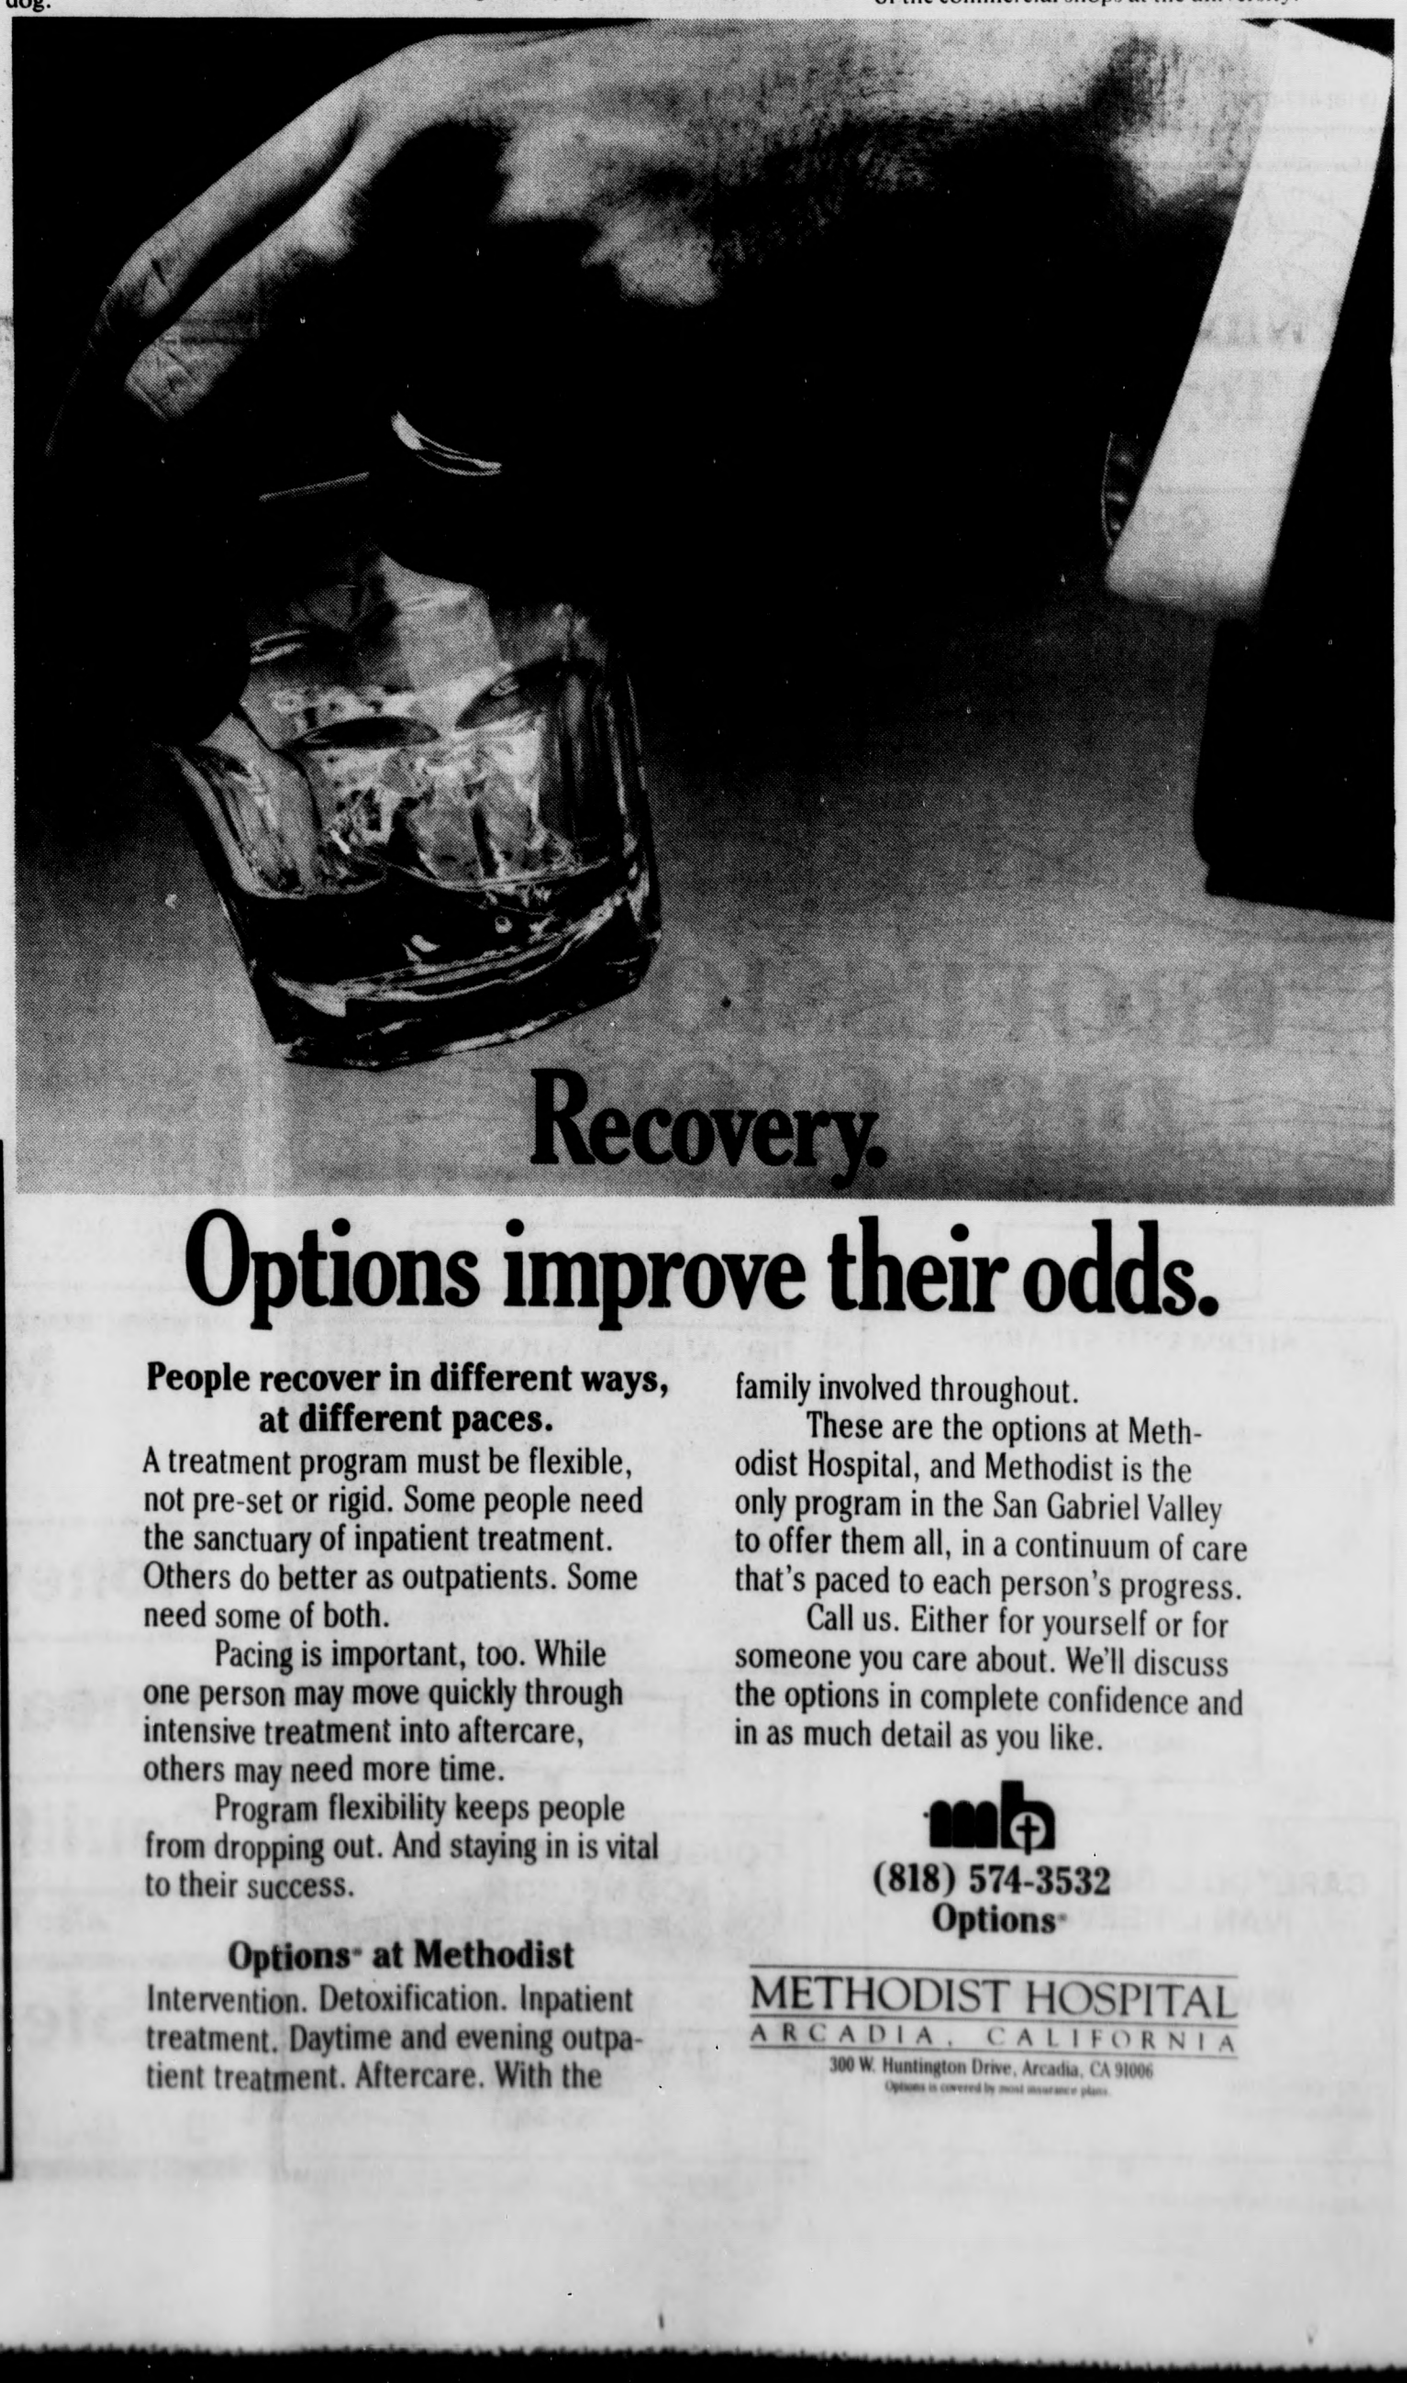

Lynne Siebrandt

Community invited to hear Adams

The Sierra Madre Woman's Club reminds the residents to attend their community meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 26, 1:30 p.m. when Dr. Gary Adams will present the pros and cons of the November State Ballot Measures.

Over the years Dr. Adams has attended the Woman's Club meetings prior to election time and with his knowledge and expertise has helped bring about a better understanding of the complicated and often confusing ballot measures.

He is well-known in Sierra Madre as a past Mayor and councilman, and for his four years as trustee of the Board of Pasadena City College. He has been chairman of the criminology division of California State University at Long Beach and is presently serving as their general manager and C.E.O. of the commercial shops at the university.

Options improve their odds.

People recover in different ways, at different paces.

A treatment program must be flexible, not pre-set or rigid. Some people need the sanctuary of inpatient treatment. Others do better as outpatients. Some need some of both.

Pacing is important, too. While one person may move quickly through intensive treatment into aftercare, others may need more time.

Program flexibility keeps people from dropping out. And staying in is vital to their success.

Options® at Methodist

Intervention. Detoxification. Inpatient treatment. Daytime and evening outpatient treatment. Aftercare. With the family involved throughout.

These are the options at Methodist Hospital, and Methodist is the only program in the San Gabriel Valley to offer them all, in a continuum of care that's paced to each person's progress.

Call us. Either for yourself or for someone you care about. We'll discuss the options in complete confidence and in as much detail as you like.

ANOTHER PROSPECTIVE ROSE PRINCESS — Heather Allen, standing in front of Arnold's Hardware, is one of the women selling roses and hoping to be one of the three rose princesses to ride the Sierra Madre float Jan. 2, 1989. The women will be selected at the coronation ceremony Nov. 5 at St. Rita's Hall.

WOMEN SELL SILK ROSES — As part of their responsibilities as princess competitiors in the Sierra Madre Rose Float Association tryouts, women are asked to sell silk roses on the streets of Sierra Madre. Here Amy Hutchins sells in front of Howie's Ranch Market last weekend.

Health care workshop

On Oct. 25, the Medicare Advocacy Project (MAP) will be offering a free workshop on "Senior Health Insurance Options" at the Arcadia Senior Center as a service to seniors and their caregivers. MAP is a nonprofit independent advocacy organization not affiliated with Medicare, and insurance company or HMO. You must preregister. Call the Arcadia Senior Center at (818) 580-2210 for a reservation.

Fire prevention In case of fire

If a major brush fire endangers your home, the California FAIR Plan, a fire insurance pool that insures properties in brush areas, suggests that you make note of these safety hints: Remove all vehicles from the street and driveways; place combustible garden furniture, bamboo screens, awnings, etc. in the garage; close all doors and windows, including those in the garage; wet down shingle roofs and shrubbery around your dwelling; keep your family together; turn the lights on.

VFW post addition

Mr. Van Iersel belonged to the VFW here in Sierra Madre. He was believed to be the first non-citizen ever awarded the nation's highest honor, the Medal of Honor. He was also recipient of 14 other American and French decorations for heroism during the first World War.

Twenty-four years later he served with the 3rd Marine Division on Bougainville during WWII, adding an Asiatic-Pacific ribbon to a Marine tunic unable to accommodate his earlier Army decorations.

He became a celebrated hero before setting foot in the United States.

Born in the Netherlands, he was aboard a Norwegian ship bound for the U.S. when he rigged the boatswain's chair that lifted to safety 27 British sailors whose ship had been torpedoed by a German vessel. He was given a medal for lifesaving at sea in the name of King George V and took out his citizenship papers for the United States.

He served in France where he received the first of his two Croix de Guerres after braving German gunfire to help 17 soldiers to safety. The second honor came after he led a small reconnaissance patrol to capture 60 German soldiers.

Later he was credited with saving the lives of 1000 men after an icy swim in the Seine River under heavy fire to learn that the enemy had an artillery barrage set to wipe out his entire battalion. He reported the knowledge and his company moved into trenches as the German barrage began.

He and his three sons volunteered for service in WWII. He talked his way into the Marine Corps and served in the South Pacific.

He was interred in Arlington National Cemetery after his death in Roseburg, Ore. a year ago.

SO NOW IT'S "PILLING"

The march of progress is endless — like death and taxes.

From one problem to the next — from one solution to the next.

Now it's "pilling."

Know what is "pilling?"

That's what happens when two or more fabrics which are not related are woven together to produce benefits in wear that neither fabric by itself has. So far it sounds good, and it is.

But . . . let's see what actually happens in an actual case. We're getting trousers and other garments in here which are all covered with little "balls" or "pills." This has happened when rayon or wool or silk is mixed with orlon or dacron or nylon. The purpose is to reduce wrinkling and to increase wear. The purpose is good and the result is good. Both things do happen. But, since the weave mixture is of fabrics of differing strengths, the uneven wear of one against the other simply means that one fabric "sloughs" a little faster and balls up into those little pills which cling to the surface of the garment.

Oh well. Ho-hum. What can you do about it? I dunno. What can we do about it? W-e-l-l, we could maybe shave or clip the fuzz.

Anyhow, for good cleaning you can always

Gloria Dei

The sermon theme for next Sunday at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church at 186 W. Highland Ave. in Sierra Madre is: "Jonah, The Reluctant Missionary." It is based on Jonah 4:1-3. Sunday School and Adult Bible class follow. We invite you to be our guests.

We reject as contrary to the clear revelation of Scripture all attempts to interpret symbolically the New Testament facts of the end of the world, of Jesus' second coming, and of the judgment or to see these events taking place, not in the end of time, but concurrently with history. "This We Believe."

Monrovia church holds 'Country Night'

Member of the United Methodist Church, 140 E. Palm, Monrovia, will celebrate their anniversary with a dinner, "A Country Night," to be followed by square dancing Saturday, Oct. 22, at 6 p.m. at the church. Tickets $15 for adults and $7 for children under 112 years of age.

Reservations are necessary and should be made by Wednesday, Oct. 18. Church office telephone 303-2783.

Tall singles

The San Gabriel Valley Tall Singles will offer dinner and dancing out on the town at Bennigan's Restaurant at 400 E. Huntington Dr. in Arcadia. Dancing will follow at 9 p.m at Woody and Eddy's, 3007 E. Huntington Dr. in Pasadena.

The event is planned for tall single men six feet tall or over and women five feet eight inches and over. All tall singles over age 25 years old are welcome to attend. Call (818) 359-8444 or 284-6113. Reservations are not required.

Singles relationships

The "Prime Time" Singles of Arcadia Presbyterian Church will sponsor a two session midweek discussion of singles and changing parent-child relationships on Wednesdays, Oct. 19 and 26 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 14 at the church, 121 Alice Street, Arcadia.

"Prime Time" Singles Midweek is planned especially for singles aged 40 and better. No charge.

Flu shots offered at Methodist

Methodist Hospital in cooperation with the Los Angeles County Health Department, will offer flu shots from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., Monday, Nov. 28 in Lewis Hall of the hospital facility. Flu shots are recommended for persons 55 and older and those with chronic disease. For additional information call Community Relations, (818) 574-3434.

Congregational

Dr. Paul Pierson, dean of the school of World Mission at Fuller Theological seminary, will be the speaker at the 8:15, 9:45 and 11:15 a.m. services on Sunday morning, Oct. 16 in the Sanctuary. His vast experience in other cultures and his constant exposure to various types of mission strategies will enhance his message based on Genesis 12:1-3 and Romans 16:25-27. In his message, "The Task Before Us," Dr. Pierson will deal with the role of non-western missions, and give us a clearer understanding of our involvement in the task at hand.

At the 6 o'clock evening service, Paragon Productions will present "The Gospel in an Age of Change," another multi-media look at missions. Ken Walker, Minister of Music, will lead his Master'Song group in the musical part of the service.

Media program at Congregational Church

What lies ahead for those of us who yearn to spread the message of Christ to the world? Are we really in tune with the abrupt changes that are the order of the day? Within the reality of change, there are a number of critical trends that will affect the fulfillment of the Great Commission in the next 40 years. It is imperative to understand them!

Come and see the three - screen, nine - projector, multi-media program, "The Gospel is an Age of Change," presented at Sierra Madre Congregational Church on Sunday, Oct. 16 at 6 p.m.

Happy Hearts to hear Heger's presentation

The 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 19 meeting of the Happy Hearts group at Methodist Hospital will feature area cardiologist Joel Heger, M.D. His presentation, "Lazers, Razors and Trail Blazers" will focus on the experimental procedure being explored for the removal of coronary artery plaque.

Dr. Heger is the co-author of a book off the press "Case Studies in Cardiology for the House Officer." The book is a synthesis of information gathered from the authors' practice of cardiology and from their students in clinical training.

Happy Hearts programs are coordinated by the hospital's Cardiac Rehab Department and are given to the community free of change. For additional information contact Cardiac Rehab, (818) 574-3422. Easy access parking is available in the Physicians Parking Lot.

Bethany

By Al Elby

"Mything Out On Life" was the topic of Pastor Clyde's message. No, he doesn't have a lisp, the title is unique and the way Clyde handled it was equally novel. However the bottom line is the quality of the content of his message and for this he received a 9.5 with a degree of difficulty of 3.2.

Clyde in talking about reality and fantasy points out that if you use fantasy as a basis to guide you, you'll miss out. This is particularly true in church. Some people put their mind in neutral or on hold when they come to church. Because it's coming from the pulpit they buy whatever they hear without thinking. You've got to check it out or you'll myth out and miss out on life. Satan is the master of myth because he knows that you're not recognizing the truth puts you in his vest pocket. This strongly comes into play in personal relationships. "The grass is greener on the other side." The grass may be greener but the water bill is higher." "We're getting married because we've fallen in love." If that's the only reason it's the lousiest reason in the world. Over 60 percent of the marriages fail today and the prime reason for the marriage was that they fell in love. You don't just fall in love, you commit yourself to it. You've got to have more going for you than love to make it last. Sure he/she has faults but after we're married they'll change. Clyde's rule, "Their faults will only intensify."

The father of reality is Jesus Christ. He's real, what He preached was true and what He offers is authentic. Join us at Bethany this Sunday and find out for yourself if what we've said here is fact or fiction.

Church Fiesta at St. Elizabeth

Some 2500 persons from Pasadena and neighboring communities will join in a 54-year-old tradition Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 15 and 16, at the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church fiesta.

Dubbed Carnival '88 this year, the event on the church grounds at Lake Avenue and Woodbury Ave., Altadena, includes international foods, live entertainment, games, auctions, a chili cook-off, and a pit-roasted barbecue beef dinner.

Carnival '88 will be open from noon to 9 p.m. both days, with booths featuring food and games of skill.

Trained baboons

It is claimed in some legends that, in ancient Egypt, baboons were trained to wait on tables.

Methodist

"Win Over Doubt" will be the sermon by Rev. Richard L. LaShure in the worship service at Sierra Madre United Methodist Church this Sunday at 9:30 a.m. The scripture text will be Mark 11:12-14, 20-25, the most positive of all the teachings of Jesus on the subject of prayer.

Rev. Sylvia Hines, assistant minister at Sierra Madre United Methodist Church, will deliver the children's sermon. There is a children's emphasis in the service on the third Sunday of each month.

Members and friends of the church recently contributed nearly $700 for Hurricane Gilbert Emergency Relief throughout the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR). Hunger Walk Coordinator Nancy Terry reports that a team of 15 walkers will participate in the Oct. 23 Pasadena Hunger Walk from Sierra Madre United Methodist Church.

Church Office hours are 8:30 a.m. - 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Methodist Women

The United Methodist Women of the United Methodist Church, 140 E. Palm, Monrovia, will have their fund-raising bazaar and luncheon at the church, Nov. 4 from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Baked goods, plants, a white elephant table and handmade boutique items — including Christmas items, will be for sale.

A hot lunch or a cold salad lunch at $3.50 each will be featured from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m., as well as homemade pastry to enjoy there or take home.

Moscow Classical Ballet

Ambassador International Cultural Foundation will present, direct from the U.S.S.R., the internationally-celebrated Moscow Classical Ballet, plus guest artists from the Bolshoi Ballet, for six performances only at Pasadena Civic Auditorium, 300 E. Green St., Pasadena from Tuesday evening, Oct. 11 through Sunday, Oct. 16, the first of the three outstanding ballet attractions on Ambassador's Festival of Ballet series.

This is the first U.S. tour of the Moscow Classical Ballet, which has performed highly-praised engagements in England and throughout Europe.

Literature of looking glass

Jenijoy LaBelle, professor of literature at the California Institute of Technology, will present a lecture on women in literature and their mirrors over the last 200 years on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 2:30 p.m. in the Overseers' Room.

LaBelle believes the experiences of women looking into mirrors are fraught with psychological complexities reflecting on the western conceptions of the female self.

On Stage

By Mary Cogswell Baum

One of the best theater bargains in Southern California is right in Sierra Madre's front yard. The American Academy of Dramatic Art, which celebrated its 100th anniversary a few years back, is the oldest and one of the most respected dramatic schools in the country. Its ideal of "truthful behavior in imaginary circumstances" has brought fame to hundreds of professional actors and satisfying careers to hundreds more, although, as the catalog frankly states, there is "the likelihood of considerable frustration and struggle." Acting is wonderful fun, but a difficult and discouraging profession. The Academy seeks to refine and encourage the talented, and give them the tools to survive: responsibility, self-discipline and a respectable dose of reality therapy. To enter the school takes an audition, second year students must be invited back, and third year Academy Company is carefully selected from the best and from recent alumni.

Since 1974, the west coast branch of the ADAA has taken over the old Field School at the corner of Altadena Drive and Paloma, across from Victory Park. From time to time the company presents two plays which appear on alternate evenings for a little over a week. A recent bulletin informed friends that ticket prices have been raised to $5. It's wise to make reservations for this spectacular bargain.

Experience has proved the Academy plays to be extremely well directed and acted, with sets and costumes of professional quality. The plays are chosen to give the young actors a workout in styles and periods and may be anything from Shakespeare to "Charlie's Aunt."

The current pair are Chekov's "The Three Sisters" and "The HOT L Baltimore" by Lanford Wilson.

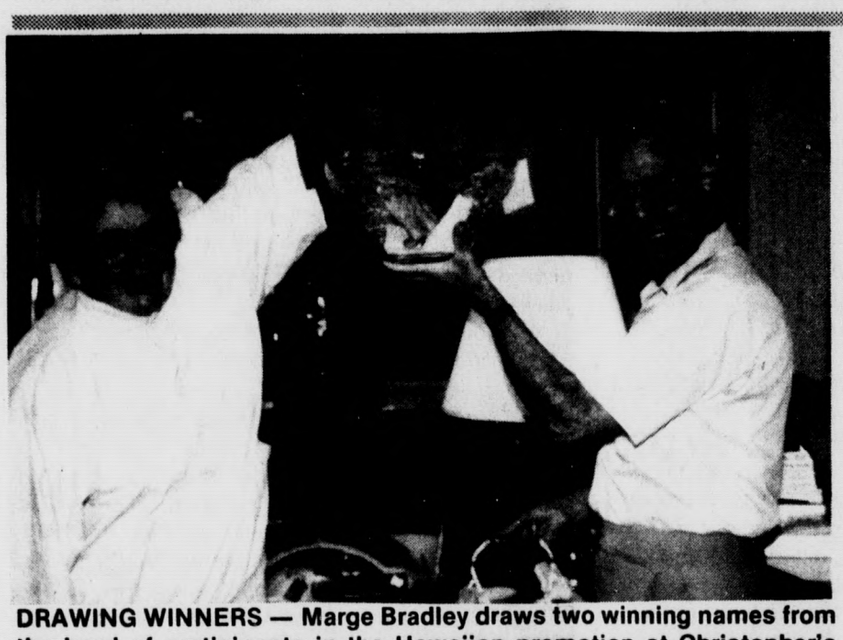

No one catches the rhythms and nuances of American speech like Wilson. His characters talk with such naturalistic art that they make you believe humanity really communicates that clearly.

Of course, in "The HOT L Baltimore" they sometimes talk all at the same time and the confusion becomes almost symphonic.

There is very little plot, but much is suggested. The old hotel is scheduled to be bulldozed. Its inhabitants have received their eviction notices. The audience introduced to the draggle-tail crew of solitary oldsters, "sporting ladies," and misfits. And yet the play is far from dreary. None of them are drowned in despair, the rainbow is always out there somewhere. An innocent-minded, street-wise young waif (Amy Burr) sets the tone of humor concern and curiosity. They are interested in each other, refuse to be crushed by their dubious fates and live each day as it comes. They are survivors in a chancy world and we see them in a brief moment of their difficult lives and learn to appreciate them.

The actors do credit to their school: Michael Vieyra as the hotel clerk, Kristin Dolberg as a noisy floozie, Mary Ann Twohig as a noisier one, Barbara Guensche feistily demanding her rights, David Tamases as her dim brother. Marcellus Forney, Helene Moore and Sheri Shapiro play the old folks, wisely choosing to suggest age physically rather than with painted wrinkles. Phil Riley, Gregory Ballard Ginther, Kristine Seeley, Bartley Forsythe and Jeffrey Ashe (keep your eye on him) are convincing in smaller roles.

There is only one other performance that time: "The HOT L Baltimore" at 8 on Friday, but call 798-0777 to get on the mailing list for the next pair.

Occidental announces series

The 1988-89 Occidental College Artists Series will delight audiences with music, dance and theater beginning Saturday, Nov. 12 in Herrick Chapel.

The Romanian National Choir will open the five-part series.

The U-Zulu Dance Theater will introduce audiences to traditional and urban music and dance of South Africa Friday and Saturday, Jan. 20 and 21, 1989, in Keck Theater.

Sharon Isbin, described by Richard Dyer of the Boston Globe as "one of the best guitarists in the world," will perform Friday, Feb. 10, in Herrick Chapel.

Harold Gould, a four-time Emmy Award nominee, will play the role of the "father of psychology" in the one-person show entitled "Freud," Friday and Saturday, Apr. 7 and 8 in Keck Theater.

Called "the highest international level of chamber music" by the Boston Globe, the Bostom Symphony Chamber Players consistently earn international acclaim. The group, which has toured in South America, the Soviet Union, and Europe, will be at Thorne Hall Thursday, May 18.

Curtain is at 8:15 p.m. for all Artists Series events.

Costume gala benefit set for City of Hope

"Halloween for Hope 88," a star-studded benefit for the City of Hope, will bring ghosts, goblins, music and comedy to 20th Century Fox Studios at 8 p.m., Friday, Oct. 28.

The costume gala, sponsored by Reebok International, Ltd. and Fox Broadcasting Company, is an activity of PAC (President's Advisory Council), a young leadership group for the City of Hope Medical Center.

Producer Ken Kragen, creator of "Hands Across America," is the honorary "head pumpkin" chairman. Jules Freeman is the PAC president. Mitch Pindus is the event producer. Co-chairs are James R. Hunter and Vicki Brown.

Volksmarch, beer tasting scheduled for Oct. 15

Pasadena Heritage Volksmarch & Beer Tasting Festival is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 15 from 8 a.m. on (last starting time 1 p.m.). Beer tasting is scheduled from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Location is Memorial Park, Pasadena. The Volksmarch will begin and end on the corner of Raymond and Walnut under the big tree. The beer tasting festival will be held in the park in the area of the band shell.

Volksmarch is a non-competitive 10K walk sanctioned by the American Volkssport Association. Pasadena Heritage has recently become an official member of the AVA and the first Volksmarch will be a self-guided tour of several historically significant areas of Pasadena. The walk will be led by members of the Sierra Madre Girl Scout Council.

The festival will be held at the finish line of the Volksmarch and, for the price of admission, guests will be able to sample 30 kinds of beer, enjoy a multitude of free entertainment, and purchase a variety of festive foods.

Riensche two-term president of Civitan

Erv Riensche became the second-term president of the Arcadia Civitan Club during an installation banquet held at the Howard Johnson Plaza-Hotel in Monrovia last Saturday evening.

An electrical engineer with Zerox in Pasadena, Riensche received a B.S. degree in engineering from UCLA.

Born in Nebraska, he has lived in California for 30 years, the last 23 have found him residing in Arcadia and Temple City.

Riensche is a member of the National Management Association of Zerox Special Information Systems, Trinity Lutheran Church in San Gabriel and Pacific Association of Challenge Enthusiasts. He and his wife Pat, a fifth grade teacher in South Pasadena, are avid square dancers and are life members of the American Contact Bridge League.

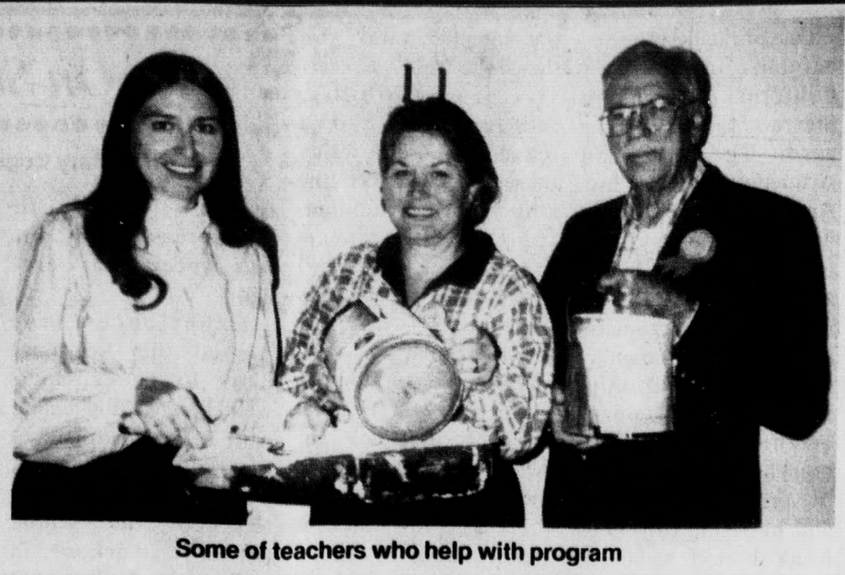

The Riensches have two children; Cindy Klein, a resident of Glendora; and Jeanette, a law student in Pepperdine University's London program.

As Civitan president, Riensche will oversee such projects as participation in the Police Advisory Council Car Clubs and its Youth Safety Run and the Foothill Development Society as well as scholarships for graduating Arcadia High School students and citizens of the month selections.

Other officers installed by Jack Michael, California district judge advocate and past district governor, include Bob Padget, president-elect; Matt Matthews, immediate past president; Steve Courney, secretary/treasurer; Robin Kleinhampl, recording secretary; Bob Knox, chaplain; and Ron Peters, sergeant-at-arms.

Directors for the year are Rob Bolster, Mike Canter, Ron Eberhard, John Gilles and Bob Stoner.

Some of teachers who help with program

Arcadians assist ed program

Grocery store gift certificates, known as scrip, will be sold at all local elementary schools in a program sponsored by the Arcadia Educational Program to raise money for all schools in the Arcadia Unified School District.

The grocery scrip effort was started in April in 1987 at Highland Oaks School where it was so successful that the other elementary schools joined the program in Sept. 1987, according to spokesperson and AEF trustee Diane Palmer.

Over $40,000 was raised last year for the purchase of science lab kits, an electric duplicating machine, painting of classrooms, a VCR, records, literature sets and beautification of school grounds.

Stores participating in the scrip program this year are Alpha Beta, Giant, Hughes, Ralphs, Vista Farms, Vons and Vons Pavilions.

At Baldwin Stocker scrip orders will be filled daily with Patti Beaston and Suzie Possemato in charge while Christine Eickholt and Marnie Ceporious are coordinating sales at Camino Grove every Wednesday and Thursday from 8-9 a.m. and 2-3:15 p.m.

On Tuesdays from 8-10 a.m. and 2-3:15 p.m. at Highland Oaks, Palmer and Shelly Romo are in charge of sales. Every Friday from 8:15-8:45 a.m. and 2:15-2:45 p.m. Sandy Fuller chairs the scrip sales at Holly Avenue.

At Hugo Reid, Renee Suchter is in charge of sales every Thursday from 8-8:45 a.m. and 2-3 p.m.; and Shirley Chan coordinates the program sales every Thursday and Friday from 8:15-9 a.m. and again on Thursday from 2:15-3:15 p.m.

Grocery scrip costs nothing to use as it is accepted just like cash at the grocery stores, explains Palmer who adds that $20 worth of scrip buys $20 worth of items at the store. Participating markets discount the scrip to the Arcadia Educational Foundation, making it possible to raise money for the schools, she explains.

"By using scrip, you can make a difference in the quality of your child's education. Our Schools win when you use scrip," stresses Alan Newman, president of the Arcadia Educational Foundation.

Faust installed Kiwanis president

Arcadia attorney Bob Faust was installed as president of the Arcadia Kiwanis Club at dinner ceremonies held last week at the Italian Fisherman restaurant in Pasadena.

Ten years ago Faust took over his grandfather's law practice in Arcadia, a practice that began shortly after World War II. He received his undergraduate degree in political science from UCLA and graduated from the University of the Pacific's McGeorge School of Law.

A six-year member of the Arcadia Kiwanis Club, Faust has served on the board of directors for the past four years.

During his presidency he hopes the club can do more for both the youth and the senior citizens of the community. He hopes to promote more people-to-people type programs, doing "nice things for others."

Even though the club already participants in the Special Olympics, Faust anticipates more money and manpower for regional competition.

The Arcadia Kiwanis Club is the sponsor of the new Youth Disaster Action Team at Arcadia High School as well as the Key Club, which Faust hopes to expand.

Faust is the vice-chairman of the Arcadia Chapter of American Red Cross, member of the L.A. County Red Cross Governance Board, United Way fund-raising campaign participant and a soccer coach for his two sons Branden, age 12, and Wesley, 10.

Robert Nordstrom, lieutenant governor for Kiwanis Division 35, was installing officer for a board that included Arties Sunshine, first vice president; Barry Swayne, second vice president; Jim Parker, secretary; Steve Sanderson, treasurer; and John Stanley, immediate past president

Lechler, Matranga named Civitan 'citizens'

Kristine Lechler and Samuel Matranga were named Citizens of the Month by the Arcadia Civitan Club.

Currently the Student Body President at Arcadia High School, Lechler also is active in the American Field Service Club, Ski Club, Kiowas and Candystripers, the junior auxiliary for Methodist Hospital.

As an AFS student, Lechler spent this summer in Ghana, Africa.

She hopes to go to UC Berkeley to major in social psychology.

Matranga also is a member of the American Field Service Club as well as the Road Show, Campus Life, Thespians and Spanish Club at Arcadia High.

He has served as sophomore class youth commissioner and junior class president and received the Rotary Youth Leadership Award.

Matranga plans to go to one of the California universities where he would major in communications with hopes of becoming an actor.

Rotary presents supplies in Mexico

For an international service project, three members of the Arcadia Rotary Club recently traveled to Tijuana Mexico to deliver medical supplies for distribution by the Tijuana and Ensenada Rotary Clubs.

Dick Martinez, Tom Miles and Arcadia Rotary President John Tyler also met with members from the Tijuana Club to discuss plans for a new medical trailer which has been acquired by the local club with the help of a grant from Rotary International Foundation and funds from District 530.

The 8 x 26 - foot trailer will be used to help provide medical analysis, assistance, treatment and education to children in orphanages and people in poor communities in Baja California.

In awarding the grant, RI wrote, "The Rotary Foundation is pleased to be associated with this fine international service project, and Rotarians of District 530, RI and the members of the Rotary Clubs of American and Ensenada Centenaria are to be commended for their humanitarian concern."

Dreier to speak to Republican women

Congressman David Dreier of California's 33rd District will speak on "Campaign '88 and the Washington Scene" at the Thursday, Oct. 20, 10 a.m. meeting of the Arcadia Republican Women's Club. The meeting will be held at the Brass Elephant, 317 W. Foothill Blvd., Monrovia.

A member of the House Committee on Banking and Urban Affairs and Small Business, Congressman Dreier also serves as chairman of the Task Force on Hunger and the Homeless and as a member of the Task Force on Crime. With the latter association, he authored legislation to protect the victim.

The youngest member of the California Congressional delegation, Dreier has received successive annual awards from "Watchdogs of the Treasury," the National Taxpayers Union and the National Federation of Independent Business.

At present, he is Southern California co-chairman of the Bush-Quayle Campaign.

Arcadia Women's Club President Judie Draper, announces that the public is invited to hear the Congressman. Price of the luncheon is $9. For reservations call 446-4539 or 355-1854.

Kappa Deltas at State Day

"Success Comes Home to Kappa Delta" is the theme chosen by members of Kappa Delta sorority for their biennial State Day celebration to be held on Saturday, Oct. 22 at the Long Beach Airport Marriott Hotel.

Suzy Spafford, a Kappa Delta alumna and creator of Suzy's Zoo, will address the 350 alumnae expected to attend the event.

Kappa Delta Sorority was founded in 1897 at Longwood College in Farmville, Va. Today it includes chapters on 120 college campuses and boasts of 448 alumnae associations throughout the United States.

Sierra Madre residents who have been invited to this biennial event are Shirley Eckloff and Janella Williams.

Arcadians who belong to the Pasadena Alumnae Association include Bea Chute, Ila Foley, Mary Jane Jones, Donna Lindberg, Jacque Small and Jeannette Tuttle.

Fortanasce, associates plan Oct. 20 mixer

Michael G. Fortanasce and Associates will host the Thursday, Oct. 20 Arcadia Chamber of Commerce Mixer at 665 Naomi Ave., Arcadia.

From 5 to 7:30 p.m., guests may enjoy hors d'oeuvres provided by Mina's Italian Cuisine of Arcadia, according to Peggy Bertolino, administrator at Fortanasce and coordinator of the mixer.

Fortanasce, originally from New York, first opened his Naomi Ave. office in Nov. 1985 after about five years of practicing physical therapy in several Arcadia locations. Two years later he expanded the facility, adding a second story which has been sold to Drs. Vincent Fortanasce and Charles Imbus. They operate a neurology center.

The first floor, which houses the Physical Therapy Human Performance Center, offers a full line of Nautilus equipment, a therapeutic pool and full physical rehab facilities, according to Bertolino.

For the $5 per person admission, mixer guests will have the opportunity to tour the facilities, eat the food, drink the beverages and take a chance at winning door prizes.

Reservations may be made by contacting the Chamber office at 447-2159.

Burkhalter nominated Arcadia 'Teacher of Year'

Marsha Burkhalter

Because of her sense of commitment to providing a quality learning experience, her enthusiasm for students and teaching activities as well as her extensive involvement in professional endeavors, Arcadia teacher Marsha Burkhalter has been nominated as 1989 California Teacher of the Year by the Arcadia Unified School District.

Her selection was announced and she was introduced at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Education.

Currently a sixth grade teacher at Hugo Reid Elementary School where she has taught for the last 19 years, Burkhalter states that she went into education because she was "inspired by her own teachers," particularly an influential Latin teacher in Frankfort, Ind.

Born in Kokomo, Ind., she was an Honors Program graduate of Ball State University in Muncie, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in education. She currently is a Master's candidate at the university of La Verne.

During Burkhalter's 19 years in the school district, she has been involved in numerous professional activities, including membership in the national state and local teachers' organizations, International Reading Assocation, Delta Kappa Gamma and the Santa Anita Reading Council.

She has served as president of the Santa Anita Council for two years, and for her contributions to this professional organization, she has received the California Reading Association medal and was placed on the Honor Council and President's Honor Roll for the International Association.

Last year she was selected, along with six other Arcadia teachers, as Ambassador for Education, a Los Angeles County Office of Education project to promote the teaching profession, and recently she was selected as an Arcadia mentor teacher in language arts.

Special activities have included curriculum writing through various district committees, assisting in the writing of the school improvement plan for Hugo Reid and the successful application for Distinguished School Award, and serving as faculty advisor for the Hugo Reid Student Council.

Burkhalter credits school district administration for giving her professional encouragement and opportunities to enhance her career. Specifically, she points to the Ambassador Program and the California Literature Project where she was trained to work with fellow teachers in implementing the language arts framework.

Burkhalter and her husband Wayne live in Arcadia with their two daughters: Bonnie, a sophomore at Arcadia High; and Stacey, a fourth grader at Longley Way.

As Burkhalter states in her philosophy, she "deals in tomorrows," explaining that in working with children she is preparing them for tomorrow. The honoree adds that she is concerned about the future and wants her students to be prepared for it.

Arcadia students show high CAP scores

Recently released 1987-88 California Assessment Program results for Arcadia students show gains at all levels, small gains in grades three and six and large gains in grade eight, announces Wade Askew, assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction.

Overall, there were eight increases and one decrease in the CAP scores, with two remaining the same. The reading scores for grades three and eight were the highest in the eight years since the current tests have been administered. All eighth grade scores were the highest yet achieved.

The reading and math scores for sixth grade were unchanged and were the second highest scores in the past eight years.

The only score to decline was the third grade written expression.

Schools showing an increase in a majority of the scores were Camino Grove, Highland Oaks, Holly Avenue, Longley Way, and all three junior high schools: Dana, Foothills and First Avenue.

With the exception of the sixth and eighth grade math scores, the highest scores are generally achieved by students who have been in Arcadia schools at least two years or longer, added Askew in a report to the Board of Education. He also noted that generally the highest scores are achieved by students with fluency in both English and a second language.

Huntington High Back to School

Good parent-teacher relations is the first step to understanding and helping the student of this new and confusing generation, according to Huntington High School student Doug Thompson who reports that a giant step in encouraging close interaction between parents and the school took place last week at the school's Back to School Night.

Dick Towner, Huntington's new principal, welcomed parents as did school board members James Bryant, Mary Dougherty and Robert Kladifko.

Also participating were Pat Medeiros, PTA president; Pat Berney, vice president and Eloise Ward, past PTA president.

A potluck dinner has been planned as the next PTA function on Wednesday, Oct. 19 in the school auditorium.

Rancho Santa Anita sold for $2700.

Rancho Santa Anita was sold for $2700, or approximately 20 cents an acre in 1847.

BOOK BUCKS REAP GIFTS — Highland Oaks Elementary School students Krista Romo and Carolyn Grumm present a selection of books made possible in a recent Book Bucks campaign to fourth grade teacher Coyla Grumm. A total of 164 books were purchased from teachers' wish lists with funds collected during a recent book fair chaired by Linda Kirkendall and Shelly Romo.

Family Fun Night at Baldwin Stocker

"Hats Off to America" is the theme of Baldwin Stocker Elementary School's annual Family Fun Night to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 18 from 4 to 8 p.m.

Face-painting, balloons, button-making and games of sport and skill have been planned by event chairman Patti Beaston.

Students are encouraged to submit their entries for the cake auction, according to Cindy Callas, PTA spokesperson, who adds that the cakes will be auctioned at 7 p.m. after the winners have been announced.

In-N-Out Burger will supply dinner of hamburgers, chips, salad and soft drink for $3. Homemade desserts will be offered for sale in the multipurpose room.

For further information call 446-3159.

Wolfskill plants first eucalyptus

Many of the Australian eucalyptus trees still living in Arcadia were planted in the mid-1800s by William Wolfskill, a land investor of the area.

Garden show this weekend

"Gardens for All Seasons," this year's theme for the Los Angeles Garden Show, will be held at the L.A. Arboretum from Friday, Oct. 14 through Sunday, Oct. 23.

The 10-day show is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Vine-covered columns, olive and citrus trees and a formal fountain surrounded by cascading rose-colored chrysanthemums will reflect the formal gardens of the Mediterranean in the central display area.

The three-acre show will feature indoor and outdoor landscapes in 30 display areas designed by landscapers to inspire home gardeners.

An additional feature of the Garden Show is the trade mart tent where specialty plants, gardening gadgets and outdoor furnishings will be sold.

For the duration of the Garden Show, Arboretum admission will be $4 for adults and $3 for seniors and ages 5 through 17. Admission entitles visitors to tour the Garden Show area as well as roam the entire 127-acre grounds of the Arboretum. Parking is free.

Arcadia young people to conference on drug control

Arcadia sent a delegation of 11, including four students, to last week's sixth annual conference sponsored by the National Federation of Parents for Drug-Free Youth and Californians for Drug-Free Youth at the Red Lion Inn in Costa Mesa.

First Avenue Junior High students Kim Daniels and Doug Kincart along with Cindi Puertas and David Walter, Arcadia High eleventh and tenth graders, respectively, are members of REACH (Responsible, Educated Adolescents Can Help) who listened to speakers and attended workshops aimed at providing them with samples of successful solutions in prevention which will enhance their drug-free community goals.

Adults attending the conference included three Arcadia teachers, Dick Salter from Arcadia High School, Shirley Forden from Hugo Reid and Sandi McGrath from Highland Oaks.

New realty franchise bows in California

A new real estate franchise program is now being introduced in California for the first time anywhere in the U.S. by United National Real Estate of California, Inc.

The company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of United National Real Estate, Inc., a Missouri corporation with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Bob Bone of Sacramento, president of the California corporation, said the new franchise has "a very low up-front fee compared to other programs in the industry. In addition, it offers franchisees a wide variety of support services and materials, including direct marketing aid for specific properties, and many are exclusive with us. In essence, we are selling professional services to professionals."

The parent company currently maintains non-franchise offices in 43 states, primarily in small towns and rural areas. Bone said the California corporation may move into metropolitan markets in the state, depending upon the nature of a new franchisee's business.

United National Real Estate, Inc., publishes a national catalog of properties for sale twice a year and distributes it internationally. It also advertises weekly in major newspapers from coast to coast and publishes a weekly confidential list of prospective buyers who have inquired about real estate in the area served by each of its offices. "All of this," said Bone, "is part of the new franchise program."

Sposato to race

After coming to California eight years ago, Sposato's racing career has been highlighted by the Southern Pacific Formula Atlantic Championship, five straight national wins in SOPAC Division, and a national win last year at the Riverside International Raceway. In 1987, he finished 13th in the SPI Formula Atlantic Championship.

Formula Atlantic racers are single-seat, open wheel cars, powered by a 1600cc Cosworth engine with four cylinders and 225 horsepower. The chassis is of monocoque construction; bodywork is fiberglass featuring side pods and front and rear wings; the 13-inch wheels are 10 inches wide in the front and 14 inches wide in the rear.

With numerous restrictions on the car, the emphasis for success is placed on the driver, explains Sposato.

Between 30 and 40 cars compete for a $10,000 purse in each Formula Atlantic race which is the only class in the United States to use the "standing start" format. After a pace lap, the cars come up to the start-finish line in a two-by-two formation and hold their position while the starting sequence begins. When the red light comes on, there is a four to six second delay until the green light flashes and the cars accelerate at full speed.

Joe Sposato

The cars are capable of going from zero to 60 miles per hour in 2.8 seconds and zero to 120 mph in 11.4 seconds. The average speed for typically 60-mile race is 100 mph with top speed being 150 mph.

When wearing a coat and tie instead of a racing suit, Sposato is the president of Halprin Supply Company, manufacturers of fire fighting equipment.

This 38-year-old is a member of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Young Presidents Organization, International Association of Fire Chiefs, National Fire Protection Association and Sports Car Club of America.

He and his wife Suzanne have lived in Arcadia for five years. She has recently ended her career as vice president of Security Pacific in Los Angeles to devote more time to racing. She does timing, scoring and publicity, serves as vice president and "go-fer" of Sposato Motor Racing and will be its head cheerleader at Laguna Seca this weekend.

In his newly acquired Ralt racer, Brent Lachelt, another Arcadia driver, will compete at Laguna Seca in Monterey this weekend.

This 27-year old has been racing for three years and was the 1987 Sports Car Club of America regional Formula Atlantic champion with three wins.

Lachelt is a youth counselor in Pasadena where he workd with high school students and is a bible study leader.

Zoolalian is elected to chairmanship

The Foothill Private Industry Council has elected Ed Zoolalian, Neff Instrument Corp., Monrovia, to the 88-89 chairmanship, according to Diane Moore Lovell, executive director of the council that oversees job training programs in the San Gabriel Valley.

New appointments to the 26-member council were announced by Zoolalian and include Vern Halcromb, Dean, Pasadena City College; George Kinney, president, Castle Press; Marcia McVey, deputy superintendent, Duarte Unified School District and Steven Schultz, president, Stevent Schultz Co. Inc., general contractor.

New committee assignments announced by Zoolalian are Meyer Stansberry, Unocal, chairman of the Planning Committee and Arthur Hersey, Santa Anita Park, Executive Committee.

Search and Rescue

Altadena, San Dimas, Montrose, Santa Clarita Valley and the Emergency Services Detail from the Los Angeles County Sheriff joined the Sierra Madre crew.

The crews searched all day Saturday and finally, at approximately 6 p.m., just as the search was about to be called off, the Sierra Madre crew, comprised of Clint Kearns, Lin Kroll and Rob Nobles, located the man's body, lying in a stream at the bottom of the canyon. Knight apparently died of injuries resulting from a fall.

Other recent SAR activities include a request on Oct. 1 from the San Dimas Rescue Unit to assist in the search of a lost hunter and his 14-year-old companion. The search was centered in Bear Canyon near the San Gabriel Wilderness area. Three crew members from the Sierra Madre Search & Rescue Team located the missing men on the morning of Oct. 2.

On Oct. 8, the team received a request from the Riverside Mountain Rescue Team to assist in a search in the San Jacinto Mountains. Also participating in the search were crews from the San Diego Mountain Rescue Team and the China Lake Mountain Rescue Group.

Auto insurance reviewed

Auto insurance propositions appearing on the November ballot will be discussed at Temple Beth Torah's Men's Club Breakfast, Oct. 23, 9:30 a.m. Speakers representing the various initiatives include Helen Allright, Proposition 100; Steve Edelman, Proposition 101; Troy Deckertt, Proposition 103; and Robert W. Kane, Proposition 104 — No-fault initiative. Moderator will be Bert Z. Kaplan, president of Kaplan & Lam Insurance in Alhambra.

The breakfast will be held at Temple Beth Torah, 225 S. Atlantic Blvd., Alhambra. Donation for breakfast will be $4. For additional information call (818) 281-6000.

City Council

Shaffer states that 'nowhere in Los Angeles County does an EMT-D program exist nor has one been proposed to exist on its own.' It is recommended that Ms. Shaffer check with the County of Los Angeles Department of Health Services to obtain additional information regarding EMT-ID programs in the county, one of which has been approved in a nearby city without paramedics," Tracy continued.

The recent Have A Heart campaign in Sierra Madre raised over $20,000 for two defibrillators to be placed in each of the ambulances. Cost of the defibrillators is $15,000 for both; however, the community responded enthusiastically to the call for aid to the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department. Department volunteers are undergoing training to use the defibrillators.

With the present Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) program, the average time for dispatch to the ambulance going enroute for a rescue/EMS response was 55 seconds and the average time from dispatch to the ambulance arriving at the scene (within the 3.2 square miles of the city) was approximately three minutes, Tracy reported.

Tracy also pointed out that the total cost of the service is totally funded by donations from the citizens. This includes the purchase of the two rescue ambulances in 1976 and 1983.

Paramedic salary, benefits info

Last month the local fire department requested salary and benefits information from area cities having paramedic coverage and the results point out that Sierra Madreans would have to come up with a considerable amount of money to support a paramedic program.

According to statistics received by the fire department, the entry level annual salary of a paramedic in Arcadia is $32,220 and in Monrovia, $28,704. Annual benefits would amount to $13,508 in Arcadia and to $14,571 in Monrovia. In Arcadia there were 2200 responses and in Monrovia, 2070. The average training cost per firefighter/paramedic was between $200 and $300 in Arcadia and $400 in Monrovia.

Based on salary levels researched through Arcadia, Monrovia and Alhambra Fire Departments by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department, it would take an average annual salary of $30,948 each for six full-time firefighter/paramedics in Sierra Madre. Add to that the 39 percent fringe factor and Tracy estimates the annual salary would cost "approximately $43,017 in order to hire a paramedic."

He said that the minimum number required to start a paramedic progarm in the county of Los Angeles is at least six personnel. "This would equate to an annual cost of $258,102 per year for just salary and fringe. Other costs to consider would be the cost of additional paramedic equipment and housing costs (probably with the police/fire facility) which are not detailed as part of this analysis," explained Tracy.

Possible Sierra Madre funding

Where would the City Council find that kind of money?

Tracy said, "Should the residents to the community and the City Council wish to implement a paramedic program, the entire fire department supports the concept. However, it would be the responsibility of the City Council to develop the fundings to support this program."

Shaffer suggests, "Training firefighters to be paramedics would be costly, but there are agencies close to town such as Arcadia Fire or Los Angeles County Fire that may be willing to help. The other option is to contract with a private ambulance company for paramedics. This could be arranged on a fee for service basis. This, I think, would be most cost effective."

Tracy stated that the local fire department had sent questionnaires to five private ambulance companies but that no responses had been received as yet.

Specific salary information

Further revenue considerations, suggested by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department and presented to the City Counicl for consideration, include the following:

- Medical/Rescue Transportation Fees
  Approximate/Average No. of transports 348
  Proposed charge per transport $100
  Projected revenue $34,800
- Annual EMT service fees
  (1) An assessment of $2 per month for each water meter would generate $84,000 per year based upon an approximate calculation of 3500 water meters at $2 per month over a 12-month period.
  (2) An assessment of $35 per year to each household on 1100 apartments and 4500 single family dwellings would generate $196,000 or projected revenue.

Tracy also suggested, "In addition to the above due to the close proximity to the Hastings Ranch area of Pasadena, consideration may be given to providing automatic aid to the Pasadena Fire Department in the form of paramedic services."

Maatz speaks to group

Dr. Russell Maatz of the Methodist Hospital, Arcadia, emergency service staff, who attended last Thursday's meeting, pointed out that it's important to "get them (patients) to the hospital fast." He also stated that Sierra Madre's emergency personnel are "dedicated people and training would not be a problem in setting up the service."

He added that within medicine today, getting to a hospital alive is related to getting out of the hospital alive. "Very few people in this area are further than 10 minutes from the hospital," he said, "a fact that could have some bearing on the need for full paramedic service."

Others present were Dr. L.R. Newton of Huntington Hospital emergency facilities, Shaffer, and Roger Lowe, Sierra Madre assistant fire chief.

Mayor Clem Bartolai told The News that the information gleaned from that meeting would be extremely helpful to the council in further studying the situation. "We have a big job ahead in educating the community with lots of facts in comparing costs to total value. The council will continue to study the subject and has a lot of homework to do."

California Democrats outregister Republicans

California Democrats have signed up nearly a half million new voters in the first eight months of 1988 — the most in this decade, according to figures released recently by Campaign '88 Voter Registration Coordinator Bob Mulholland.

State Party Chair Peter Kelly said, "California Democrats are coming home. For the first time since 1982, Democrats are outregistering Republicans. We have signed up enough voters to provide our margin of victory on Nov. 8."

Campaign '88 compiled 60-day pre-election figures from each of California's 58 counties showing new California voters chose the Democrats over Republicans by 479,685 to 303,432 from Jan. 1 through Sept. 9, 1988.

Tony Podesta, California campaign director for Dukakis/Bentsen, said, "Our successful voter registration drive proves Californians want to take charge of the future. The registration victory sets the state for the Democr to win California on N 8th."

In 1986, the Republicans outregistered Democrats 250,204 to 65,848 (final figures). This year, Democratic registration efforts represent 55 percent of all new registrants, compared to 20 percent in 1986.

KCHZ-FM presents 'War of Worlds'

Sierra Madre's FM radio station, KCHZ-FM, 104.7 on the dial, will present the original "War of the Worlds" radio program starring Orson Wells, on Halloween evening.

The hour-long play is often called "The Radio Broadcast that Panicked a Nation" because it fooled so many people into thinking that the world had actually been invaded by Martians.

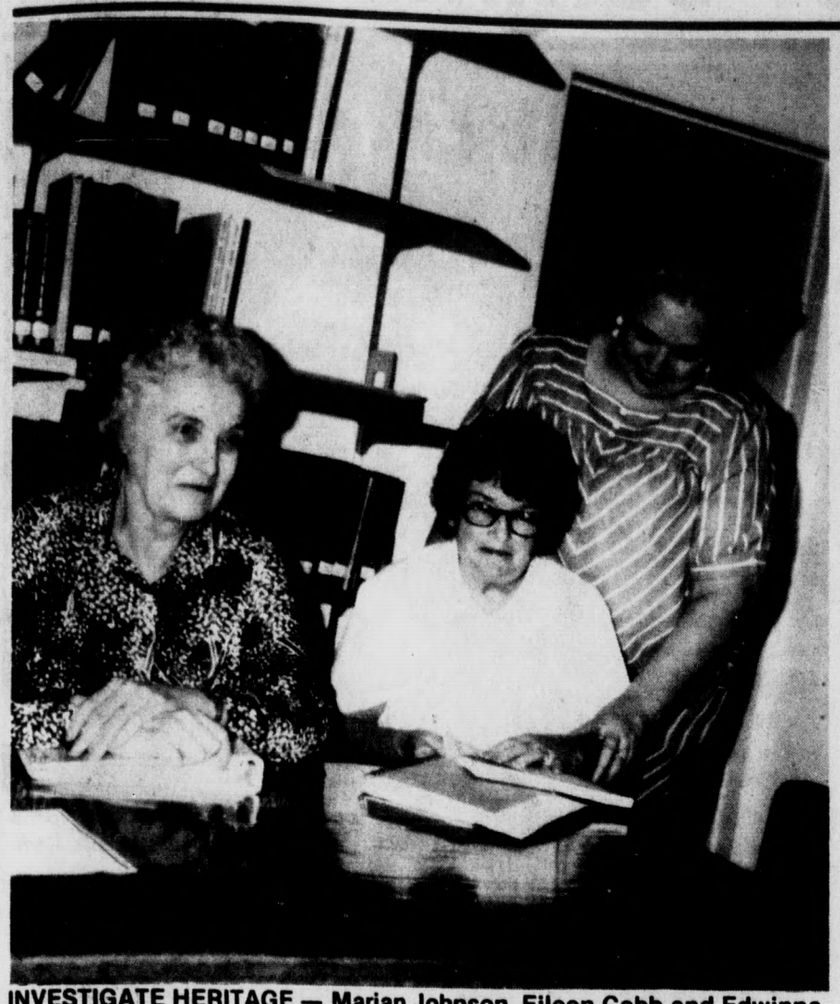

The screen play was written by H.G. Wells and was originally broadcast by CBS in 1938.

Other shows to be heard on KCHZ-FM include the following:

— 5 p.m., "The Joe E. Brown Show," starring Joe E. Brown;
— 5:30 p.m., "The Life of Riley," starring Bill Bendix;
— 6 p.m., "Lights Out";
— 6:30 p.m., "Suspense," starring Edward G. Robinson.
— 7 p.m., "War of the Worlds," starring Orson Wells."

KCHZ-FM is known as "The Occasional Voice of the Foothills," and is owned by a man whose pseudonym is Jack Cheese. The radio station is located somewhere in Sierra Madre.

INVESTIGATE HERITAGE — Marian Johnson, Eileen Cobb and Edwinna Bierman (standing) examine curriculum in advanced genealogical lecture series at Family History Center in East Pasadena.

Class in genealogy begins in Pasadena

An advanced genealogical class began last week for Santa Anita DAR members at the Family History Center, Church of Latter Day Saints in East Pasadena.

The 10-member class is being taught by Edwinna Bierman, director of the Family History Center and past regent of the DAR Santa Anita Chapter.

Edwinna began the first session with a comprehensive lecture on the use of data in genealogical libraries. She emphasized that to do genealogical research, one must know the location and surname of the descendent.

The East Pasadena Family History Center is an excellent library to start genealogical research, she said. She also described the library loan system as a starting point. Data can be obtained from the mammoth Salt Lake library in three weeks.

She regretfully reported that genealogical material in the Los Angeles Library presently is not available and won't be available until 1990. The fire at the library with the water damage put the genealogical books, as well as many others, on a "hold" position.

Edwinna pointed out the mission of the Daughters of the American Revolution is to preserve historically that maintained records about people. If people do not preserve family records, such as those of births, marriages, deaths, and important events, most of it will be lost forever, she said.

Mayor, superintendent appointed to League board

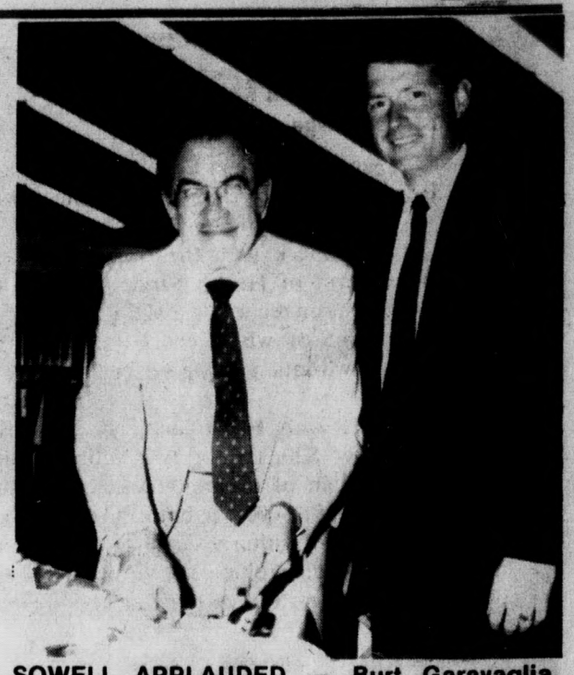

The Junior League of Pasadena (JLP) held a breakfast reception at its headquarters to honor the organization's new board of community advisors.

"The 12 advisors are professionals from such diverse fields as government, law, religion, education, business, retailing and child care," says Cynthia Perucca, president of the Junior League of Pasadena. "The advisors are resources to the league's Board of Directors, and provide advice in the areas of community projects, fund raising and overall administration."

In addition to Los Angeles County Supervisor Michael D. Antonovich, Pasadena Mayor William E. Thomson Jr., and PUSD Superintendent Phillip B. Jordan, community advisors include: Richard D. Phelps, chairman of Towars 2000; Frank L. Jameson Jr., youth services coordinator, Pasadena Police Department; and Denise H. Wood, office for Creative Connections, All Saints Episcopal Church.

Also serving are Dr. Pauline Crabb of Pasadena City College; Gene and Betye Burton of Gene Burton; George W. Johns, Port O'Call; Sue Miele, City of Pasadena's Child Care Coordinator; Gene E. Gregg Jr., attorney, Hahn & Hahn; and businessman Thornton H. Hamlin Jr.

The Junior League of Pasadena is an organization of women committed to promoting voluntarism and to improving the community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Its purpose is exclusively educational and charitable.

Hastings Ranch librarian applauded by UHRA

Geni Sowell, Hastings Ranch librarian received a tribute from the Upper Hastings Ranch Board of Directors last week with a cake and a letter of appreciation.

The letter, addressed to Geni's boss, Ed Czynaka, Pasadena Library Director, praised her as "truly community oriented and as asset to the library system. We appreciate all of her efforts and are thankful for all her support."

Geni was not present for the cake presentation; however, UHRA board members report that the cake was delicious. A little bit was left over for the library staff.

Ballance to present weight loss seminar

Are you the one who buys the Halloween candy early, but then gives the children money because you've eaten all the candy? And do you volunteer to bring a batch of cookies to the Thanksgiving get-together because the group won't miss the 40-50 you tasted before you got there?

If this sounds familiar, you might consider attending a lecture entitled "Successful Weight Control — Before the Holidays!" Monday evening, Oct. 17 from 8 to 9 p.m. at the Pasadena Hastings Library, 3325 E. Orange Grove Blvd. The presentation will be the final one given by Emily Ballance, M.Ed. at this library for the year. It is free and open to the public. For more information or directions, call 792-5600.

Ballance is a weight control counselor in private practice in Pasadena. Presently, she works with seven groups and private clients. She is also a nutrition and weight control consultant for Control Data Corporation and was previously a lecturer and counselor at the Duke University Dietery Clinic, one of the most successful behavioral weight control programs in the country.

Nader to appear at Cal State

On Thursday, Oct. 13, from noon to 2 p.m. at the Cal State L.A. State Playhouse, students and the public are invited to hear the man Time calls the "U.S.' toughest customer." The staid news magazine wasn't referring to Clint Eastwood, but to the mild mannered, totally incorruptible citizen, crusading attorney Ralph Nader.

Nader will hold a press conference at 10 a.m. on the fourth floor of the University Student Union.

Since he first made headlines with his book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," a scathing indictment of the auto industry's disregard for safety, Nader has been responsible for at least eight major federal consumer protection laws, for the recall of millions of defective motor vehicles, for countless lives saved and dramatic advances in health, pollution control, access to government and freedom of information.

COMPUTER FUNDS NEEDED — Cyndi Rapoza-Riegel (standing) makes plea for computer funds at Don Benito Elementary School. Seated is Burt Garavaglia, UHRA president.

Computer funds needed

The Upper Hastings Ranch Board of Directors voted last week a grant of $250 to the Don Benito Elementary School for the procurement of computer material.

Past UHRA President Cyndi Rapoza-Riegel, representing the Don Benito PTA, requested the funds. She pointed out that Don Benito wants to add three computers to its kindergarten through third grade computer instruction program.

The computers will particularly augment existing materials in Don Benito's math program, she pointed out. She said private donations would be welcomed by the PTA. Just sent to Don Benito PTA, 3700 Denair, Pasadena, CA 91107.

Firefighters host community at

EVERYONE LOVES SMOKEY — Smokey the Bear was very popular at the Second Annual Fire Prevention Festival this weekend at Memorial Park. Here he is not only surrounded by children but also gets a loving hug from one little girl.

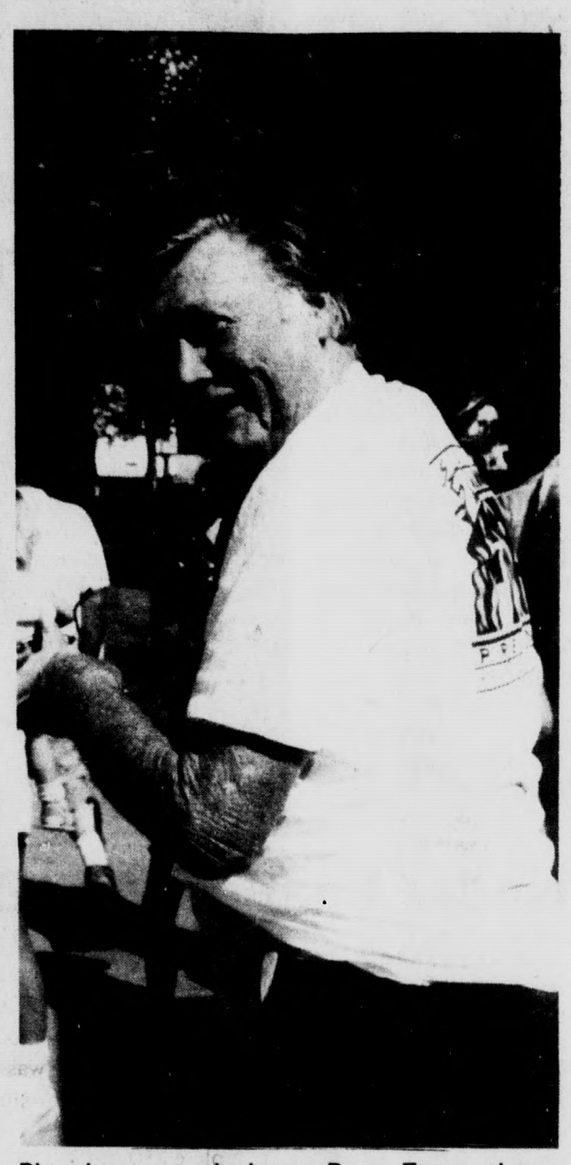

FIREMEN ENTERTAIN THE YOUNG ONES — Todd Conrad holds one of the youngsters that attended the festivities while he talks with Fireman Paul Hagan and his wife Jan.

WINS PRIZE FROM FOUND TICKET — Henry Sheen holds up his prize, a smoke detector, which he won in one of the drawings Saturday from the firefighters. He told The News, "I'm really lucky because I found the winning ticket on the ground and now I win a prize with it." Many prizes were given out that day.

LA VERNE FIRE ENGINE IS ATTRACTION — An ancient fire engine was driven from La Verne to be in the parade. Here is the engine complete with owner and traditional firefighter's Dalmation dog.

BALLOONS AND POPCORN FOR KIDS — Christopher Bamberger, son of Father Michael and Debbie Bamberger, enjoys the popcorn and huge balloon given to everyone at the festival Saturday. Father Bamberger is rector at Church of the Ascension, Sierra Madre.

JAWS OF LIFE — Firefighters use the Jaws of Life mechanism to pry open the doors of an auto wrecked during the Fire Prevention Festival. Also shown were methods of dousing fires quickly.

Reeve at AAFP meet

Dr. Ivan Reeve of Sierra Madre attended the Annual Scientific Assembly of the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) in New Orleans, La. The meeting was held Oct. 3-6. More than 4000 family physicians from around the country attended the continuing medical education meeting.

The local physician, who is a member of the Academy, heard renowned speakers discuss up-to-the-minute health care topics. He also had an opportunity to attend 30 clinical seminars and visit more than 59 scientific and 209 technical exhibits.

Subjects covered in this four-day scientific session were of immediate interest to family doctors both in their everyday practices and in their continual endeavors to keep abreast of the latest advances in medicine. Some of this year's topics included AIDS, osteoporosis, diabetes, smoking cessation, neonatal infections and a host of other pertinent presentations.

Headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., the AAFP is the national association of family doctors representing more than 60,000 family physicians and medical students. It was the pioneer among medical organizations in requiring its members to take continuing medical education. AAFP members must complete 150 hours of mandatory continuing study every three years.

HAWAIIAN SHIRTS ABOUND — Some of the men wearing Hawaiian shirts at the Saturday evening luau, sponsoired by the Sierra Madre and Arcadia Chambers of Commerce, were Phil Lopes, Kel Mason, Bruce Thompson and Joe Miller. Lopes is with the Hub Shopper and Mason is executive director of the Arcadia chamber. Thompson is Hinshaw Department Store manager and Miller assisted the chambers with the promotion.

REALTOR, FRIEND ATTEND — Gil Jorgensen and Marge Erton, both of Sierra Madre, were on hand to enjoy the food in the luau Saturdy evening.

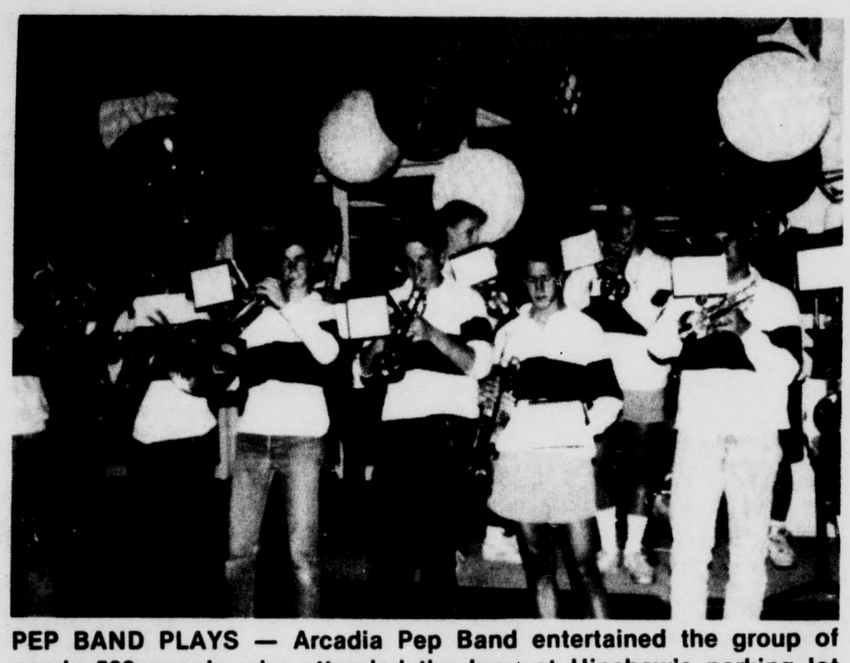

AREA FRIENDS MEET AT LUAU — Beth Constanza, owner of Cheyenne Supper Club, in Arcadia; Irma Tibi, owner of Tibi's Gift Shoppe in Arcadia; Christopher Valencia, owner of Christopher's Antiques and Jewelry in Sierra Madre; and Joan Sheets, owner of Little Stuga in Sierra Madre, join in the festivities at the luau Saturday, the culmination of the six-week promotion in both towns.

ENTERTAINERS DEMONSTRATE TRADITIONAL DANCES — These women, part of the Ote'a Polynesian Dance Group, show traditional Hawaiian dances while native drums roll.

NATIVE TAHITIAN DANCER — In traditional Tahitian dance garb, this woman shows some of the intricate dance steps only used in Polynesian cultures.

PEP BAND PLAYS — Arcadia Pep Band entertained the group of nearly 500 people who attended the luau at Hinshaw's parking lot Saturday evening. The luau was the climax of a six-week promotion for the Sierra Madre and Arcadia Chambers of Commerce.

MORE DANCE STEPS — One of the Ote'a dancers teaches an Arcadia resident to do the hula.

DANCERS TEACH LOCALS SPECIAL DANCE STEPS — The Hawaiian dancers, both male and female, choose members of the audience and teach them dance steps.

By Ron Hutson, Main Street Project Coordinator

A recent newsletter published by the California League of Cities carries an article by Big Bear City Manager Robert Van Nort in which he shares thoughts on balancing the need for economic development with the need to preserve the features of small-city living.

According to Van Nort, "The creation of quality facilities is time consuming and does not occur overnight. It is extremely important that the project be given every chance for success right from the beginning — not only for a financial standpoint, but from a design standpoint so as not to conflict with the quality life-style. As many viewpoints as possible need to be considered. Use all of your staff and other knowledgeable people in the community to determine the potential obstacles that the project will face and by what means the city can resolve them."

He goes on to say, "Also be creative with your solutions that enable the new facility to locate in your community. Just because an idea hasn't been used in your city or other cities before doesn't mean it won't work, and it may be the one thing that gets the project off the ground."

Van Nort quotes Arthur Grant, the founder and first editor of The American City magazine, as saying: "A city can be great without being big, and if one-half of the energy expended by chambers of commerce and boards of trade in "booming' their cities were devoted to bettering them, the results would be more satisfactory, even from a business standpoint. There are already a number of relatively small American cities to which people of means are moving by choise because they are desirable places to live in, or in which to bring up children. Civic virtue has become an asset that the shrewd business man will not long overlook."

While Grant's quote is obviously dated (boards of trade is your tip-off), his basic point is as valid today as ever. And Van Nort's emphasis on "quality and creative solutions" provides two crucial foundation stones upon which our revitalization program must be built.

ROP offers free fall EMT training

Area residents interested in becoming Emergency Medical Technicians or Firefighters may contact the Los Angeles County Regional Occupational (ROP) office at Arcadia High School (telephone 446-9976) for free job training information.

The emergency medical technician 200-hour course consists of a combination of classroom instruction, skill demonstration and simulations. Each student is required to have at least 8-hour-ambulance - ride-along experience and 8 hours supervised clinical experience in the emergency room.

The 54-hour firefighter course is designed to prepare students for employment with the forest service. Students will receive instruction in fire management, including field trips where they will receive hands-on training in line construction, engines, woodmanship and aircraft safety.

Information on other vocational training classes is also available through the Arcadia High School ROP office.

Dixieland jazz in Pismo Beach

The upbeat rhythms of Dixieland Jazz will resound throughout beautiful Pismo Beach during the 12th First Annual Jubilee-by-the-Sea, Oct. 28-30.

Sixteen bands will offer the anticipated 2000 festival-goers the best in real jazz, highlighted by the Hot Cotton Jazz Band from Memphis, Tenn. and the Nightblooming Jazzmen from south of Mt. Baldy, CA.

Admission to all of the weekend's events will be through the purchase of a patron badge. A limited number of badges may still be obtained for $25 each at the Pismo Beach Chamber of Commerce office.

Concert locations include Marie Callender's, The Pismo Beach Theatre, Trader Nick's, the Pismo Vets Hall, the Shorecliff, and the Edgewater Motel Sky Roof. A free shuttle will run between these locations and many of the local hotels.

For more information contact the Pismo Beach Chamber of Commerce at 581 Dolliver St., Pismo Beach, CA, 93449 or phone 773-4382 or 1-800-443-7778.

PASQUALE POWERS FORWARD — Arcadia's Dino Pasquale struggles out of the grasp of a Monrovia defender during the 30-7 win for the Apaches on Friday night.

Apaches win game

Jamie Brashear, Jeff Folsom, Damon Groves, Dino Pasquale and Jim Marshall all scored for Arcadia High School last Friday night at the Apaches won the season's final pre-league game 30-7 over Monrovia.

Folsom kicked a 360-yard field goal in Arcadia's first possession and went on to add three PATs.

Arcadia also scored in the first quarter on an eight-yard touchdown run by Pasquale who had 13 carries for 75 yards on the night, and on a second quarter 18-yard scoring run, by Groves who had 14 carries for 101 yards.

Two more touchdowns were added in the third quarter as Marshall scored on a seven-yard run and Brashear caught a 40-yard scoring toss from quarterback Ed Bepioff, who completed 5 of 7 attempts and 90 yards on the night.

Head Coach Dick Salter credited his players for playing well, allowing only one score and that was the result of a fumble in the final period.

Pacific League action begins this week when Arcadia travels to face Hoover on Friday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. Last Year Hoover shut out the Apaches 6-0.

Arcadia enters league competition with a 3-2 record. As to its playoff possibilities Salter that he will "take one (game) at a time."

Eklund to present Mt. Wilson

"An Adventure in Astronomy: Mt. Wilson Observatory and the Night Sky" presented by Bob Eklund will be given tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 14 at the Sierra Madre Library at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free. Adults and children are welcome.

The lecture and slide program will cover the history of Mt. Wilson beginning with the spring of 1989 when Harvard University students brought the first Mt. Wilson telescope up the Sierra Madre Mt. Wilson trail and will also cover astronomy and the night sky. During the second part of his presentation, Eklund will take the audience outside to view Mars and several constellations through his telescope.

In honor of Mt. Wilson's centennial celebration, the Sierra Madre Rose Float Association has dedicated the 1989 float to this wonderful event.

Adults and children are encouraged to come to this presentation. Sierra Madre Public Library is located at 440 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. in Sierra Madre.

AYSO SCORES

A.Y.S.O. Results
Boys 5
Saturday, Oct. 8:
The Rascals — 3, The Bobcats — 1

In a physical, hard fought game, the Rascals prevailed to overcome a tough Bobcats team, and retain their 100 percent record. Brian Miller scored before half time to give the Rascals a 1-0 half time lead. Immediately after half time the Bobcats equalized to make the score 1-1. The Rascals defense stood firm, and gradually the midfield of Noa Porter, Jeff Lindsay, and Brian Miller took control to allow the offense to win the game with further goals from Scott Hayashi, and Noa Porter. Matthew Hartley did well in goal. Shawn Bagci, Jay Barron and Steve Yukovich were solid in defense. Kevin Hayashi, Greg White, Jay Kwan, Devin Boler were lively on offense. The Rascals are now 4-0 on the season.

Boys 3
Saturday, Oct. 8:
hammers — 6, Comets — 0

Three goals by Mike Marcos, two by Matt Lowe and one by Rich McKenna led a strong Hammers team past the Comets. Leading 2-0 at half time, the Hammers got stronger to win very easily by 6-0.

Top Guns — 7, Mustangs — 3

Blazers — 2, Poison — 1

In a close game, goals by Sean Patterson and Chuck Wert saw the Blazers past Poison. Justin Rawcliffe got the goal for Poison.

Tsunami — 5, Goals — 2

Red Devils — 3, Raiders — 2

The Red Devils played some sparkling soccer to overcome the Raiders 3-2. Goals by Conrad Haro, Caleb Porter and Neal Petersen against two by Mark Polanco for the Raiders gave the game to the Red Devils.

THREE FOR GOLF — Getting ready for the upcoming golf tournament sponsored by the Arcadia Tournament of Roses are Dick Thinger, Joyce Macartney and Phil Macartney.

'T of R' golf tourney scheduled for Oct. 28

The Second Annual Arcadia Tournament of Roses Golf Tournament will be held on Friday, Oct. 28 at Brookside Golf Course No. 2.

A noon shotgun will begin with registration at 10:30 a.m. with the awards presentation including raffle drawings, complimentary hors d'oeuvres and no-host cocktails scheduled for 5:30 p.m.

Prizes have been selected for first, second and third place winners in men's gross, handicap and callaway flights as well as ladies' handicap and callaway flights.

The entry fee, $65 per person, includes green fee, electric cart, refreshments, and tee prizes.

Only 100 raffle tickets at $50 each will be sold for a chance on the four vacation trips: three days and two nights at the Las Vegas Golden Nugget with air fare; a trip for two to the Cottonwood Resort in Arizona with golf; and a seven day, six night Mexican Riviera cruise for two on Carnival Lines.

Non-golfers at $15 per person are invited to attend the awards ceremony and take part in food and the raffle drawing.

Dick Thinger and Phil Macartney are chairmen of the tournament which will raise funds for the Arcadia float in the Pasadena Rose Parade. Assisting with plans are Karen and Joe Benvenuto, Len Churchman, Carol Cosso, Robin Kleinhampl, Janet Lojeski, Brad Palfrey, Phil Scott, and Harriet McComas, president of the Arcadia Tournament of Roses.

Reservations may be made on a first-come-first-served basis by contacting the Arcadia Chamber of Commerce at 447-2159.

Maranatha's homecoming scheduled for Saturday

Maranatha High School's football squad has faces some of the highest ranked teams in pre-league action, only to face Valley Christian, ranked in the top ten in CIF polls, for the Alpha League opener on Saturday, Oct. 15, 7:30 p.m. at San Marino High School.

This will be Maranatha's homecoming event against an opponent that defeated the local team in a close 8-7 decision last year.

The first five contests of the season have not been kind to the Minutement who lost their fifth straight on Saturday, a 54-0 route from Valley Christian.

Corey Larsuel, with 64 yards on 11 carries, was the leading ground-gainer for the Minutemen who totalled 77 yards rushing plus 31 in the air.

Coach Dave Hogan reports that the return of three injured players should help both the offensive and defensive line for Saturday's contest.

$ One million to lucky golfer

Some lucky golfer may win $1 million during the KPGA/KVEC Million Dollar Ultimate Hole-in-One Contest in Pismo Beach, Oct. 14-16.

Five golf tees will be set up on the Ocean View Avenue turnabout right next to the SeaVenture Hotel on the beach. A full-size golf green, complete with natural turf and a regulation golf hole and pin, will be constructed in the surf 165 yards away. The result — the world's biggest water hazard and most interesting setting for a golf contest.

The preliminary rounds will run Friday noon to 7 p.m., Saturday, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Sunday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. For $1 per shot, anyone may try for a hole-in-one. Professional golfers will have a separate contest.

The 20 people who land their ball closest to the pin during the qualifying rounds, including any hole-in-ones, will go on to the Million Dollar Shootout at 5 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 16. The top prize of $1 million will be awarded to anyone who shoots a hole-in-one during this final phase.

The prize money will be split evenly between the shooter and the city of Pismo Beach for a specifed community project in the winner's name. If more than one hole-in-one is made, the money will be split evenly among the winners.

In addition to the grand prize, there will also be hourly prizes awarded.

For more information contact the Pismo Beach Chamber of Commerce at 571 Dolliver St., Pismo Beach, CA 93449 or phone 773-4382 or 1-800-443-7778.

Free cataract, glaucoma screenings monthly

Free cataracts and glaucoma screenings, for seniors over 50 years of age, are being offered by Dr. Charles S. Tannenbaum, M.D., a board certified, Arcadia ophthalmologist. The screenings are available the third Tuesday of every month from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., beginning Oct. 18, at his new office, 800 Santa Anita Ave, No. 202, in Arcadia.

These clinics are designed to detect the presence of glaucoma and cataracts, since these two conditions become more common as we grow older. Early detection of these conditions provides the best chance for treatment and control.

Dr. Tannenbaum has been serving the eye needs of San Gabriel Valley residents for over 20 years.

A graduate of Harvard Medical School, Dr. Tannenbaum currently teaches ophthalmology at USC School of Medicine. As a doctor and pilot, he devotes many hours to the "Flying Samaritans," a team of physicians and other volunteers who provide diagnosis and treatment to the people of Baja California.

The new office is located on Santa Anita Avenue, in the Campus Medical Center in Arcadia, one block north of Duarte Rd. on the east side of the street. There is easy access via buses. Ample free parking is available for those who drive themselves. Entrance to parking is on Alice St., first street north of the building.

Dr. Tannenbaum's office phone is (818) 445-3500 and appointments for this free service can be obtained by calling this number.

Pasadena Ice Skating Center will participate in the Nutrasweet National Ice Skating Awareness Month with a free skate day on Saturday, Oct. 22, 1 to 4 p.m.

The agenda is as follows: free skating for everyone, 1 to 4 p.m.; free basic instruction, 1:30 to 3:15 p.m.

Pasadena Hockey Association practice is scheduled for 4:15 for those interested in ice hockey.
